Premier Gives U.S. Choice

5-10 More Years Of Aid Or Invade North, Ky Says

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky gave the United States a choice today of aiding South Viet Nam another five or 10 years or invading North Viet Nam to finish the war.

Citing repeated Communist declarations to fight on as long as 20 years, Ky told a news conference on his regime's progress: "We have the patience but can we say the same thing of our allies? Are they ready to help us for five to 10 years? If not, we must destroy the Communists in their lair."

Reacting to the Johnson administration's repudiation of his suggestions for a military confrontation with Red China and a possible invasion of the Communist North, Ky declared: "There is no desire on our part to invade North Viet Nam. Our struggle is for our self-defense."

If South Viet Nam becomes strong and a democratic and economically sound example, he continued, "the people of North Viet Nam will turn their faces to the South and will overthrow the Communist regime. This second concept requires patience and time. This is the work of five, 10 or 15 years."

Ky spoke amid signs of increased guerrilla harassment in the Saigon area. The Viet Cong shelled the command post of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division at Cu Chi, 18 miles northwest of Saigon, for nearly two hours Tuesday night. Within minutes artillery, armed helicopters and F100 Super Sabre jets carrying napalm hit back. A spokesman said the Communist mortars and recoilless rifles caused only very light casualties in the U.S. tent city.

Air strikes also halted the second attack in little more than a month on the Soc Trang airfield, a helicopter base in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon. A spokesman said the eight-minute mortar barrage by the Communists did not cause any casualties or damage.

U.S. raids continued on the Communist North and two more planes were lost, bringing the number of American planes reported downed over North Viet Nam to 310. Three fliers were rescued.

The premier and air force chief told the news conference that "the war will continue either as a battle of divisions and regiments or as guerrilla warfare or as sabotage and terrorism."

"If North Viet Nam will not end its aggression," he said, "then decisive measures must be taken. Their sanctuary must be destroyed."

Ky said that when North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh vows to fight on for two decades "people go and plead with him and ask him to stop, but when I say we should invade the North people call me names and say I am bloodthirsty. This is an injustice done by free men to free men and it makes me sad."

Ky's statement was in reply to questions about his comment in an interview in U.S. News & World Report last week that "it is better to face (the Red Chinese) right now than in five or 10 years" and suggesting an allied invasion of North Viet Nam.

The pronouncements were in line with similar previous declarations by Ky and chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu but they touched off a storm in the U.S. Senate Tuesday. Democratic Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana called on the Johnson administration to disassociate itself from Ky's statements.

A State Department spokesman commented: "Our position of not seeking any wider war has been repeatedly made clear and remains our position."

Near-Cloudburst

'Flash Flood' Rips Borough In Afternoon

Cleanup work continued today on the wet and muddy streets of Midland which were hit by a sudden flood during a violent wind and rainstorm late Tuesday afternoon, similar to a heavy near-"cloudburst" which damaged the borough three years ago.

Although some basements of homes and businesses were flooded, trees snapped off and electric and telephone wires downed, no one was injured in the storm, which did not compare in intensity with the wind and rain which battered the borough July 22, 1963.

The 9th St. and Springlane areas bore the brunt of yesterday's storm and its water damage.

THREE FEET of water, backed up from inadequate storm sewers in the 9th St. area, covered the 9th St. and Midland Ave. intersection, swamping several cars.

A large tree branch, broken by the hard gusts of wind, fell on the roof of one auto in the intersection, damaging the roof.

Volunteer firemen, summoned by the sounding of the siren at 5:10 p.m. waded into the inundated intersection to push stalled autos to safety.

Eastbound traffic was re-routed up 8th St. to an alley to Lincoln Park and around the park to 10th St. Firemen and street crews cleared sewers and had normal traffic flowing at the site by 6 p. m.

Throughout the community tree branches, smaller trees and television antennas were snapped off by the force of the storm, especially in the Springlane section at the west end of the town.

A heavy coating of mud was left on almost all streets, and crews worked during the evening and night to clear trees and branches which blocked traffic.

A large tree and several heavy limbs were downed near the First Baptist Church at 5th St. and Penn Ave.

A LIGHT shower began falling on Midland about 4:30, lasting for about 10 minutes. The rain resumed at 4:50, growing steadily until heavy sheets of water were drenching the area at 5 p. m.

Storm sewers at 9th St. were unable to handle the large drainage and backed up for two blocks — from 8th to 10th Sts. and from the alley to Railroad Ln. at 9th St. — covering sidewalks and backing up into homes and businesses in the vicinity.

Six inches of water stood in the basement of the Crucible Steel Co. office building between 8th and 9th Sts., but little dam-

Ground Fighting At Low Ebb In South

U.S. Warplanes Hammer North Viet Targets Again

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes hammered at North Viet Nam again today while ground fighting remained at low ebb in the South except for sporadic guerrilla mortar attacks.

The raids on the Communist North cost two more American planes, raising reported U.S. aircraft losses there to 310. All three airmen were daringly rescued by U.S. helicopters after they bailed out over North Viet Nam's panhandle region.

U.S. officials announced that an official of the U.S. Agency for International Development, Norman L. Clowers, 50, of Tacoma, Wash., was killed in a Viet Cong ambush near Nha Trang. They said Clowers, a public safety adviser for five provinces in the central lowlands, was shot three times in the back of the head.

Clowers was the eighth AID official killed by the Communists. Seven of these were Americans, the other a Filipino. Officials said Clowers was ambushed Monday after delivering cement and roofing materials to a village about 20 miles north of Nha Trang.

U.S. planes flew 68 missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday, striking three oil depots, barges, bridges, trucks and rail lines. Pilots sighted two surface-to-air missiles. A flight of Air Force Thunderchiefs knocked out a missile site two miles southeast of Vinh, a spokesman said.

One of the planes lost today was an Air Force F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber piloted by Capt. James R. Mitchell, 37, of Ogden, Utah, a former Olympic skier making his 100th and last flight of the war.

Mitchell, a much decorated flier, was picked up unhurt 14 miles north of the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone.

Communist ground fire also brought down an Air Force RF4C photo-reconnaisance Phantom jet about 33 miles southeast of Dong Hoi, on the North Vietnamese coast. Capt. Marvin Mayfield, 36, of Abilene, Tex., and 1st Lt. Robert Clark, 24, of Alexandria, Va., parachuted safely and were picked up separately by a U.S. Marine and a Navy helicopter.

The heavy aerial activity near the border has been aimed at stopping infiltration of men and supplies to the North Vietnamese 324B Division which U. S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops have been pursuing just below the frontier buffer zone.

For the third straight day, however, the Marines reported only minor contact with the Communists as they continued Operation Hastings in the jungle-covered hills more than 400 miles north of Saigon. Since the allied task force launched the sweep on July 15 against the first full North Vietnamese division reported in the South, the U.S. command says 752 enemy bodies have been counted.

At dawn today, B52 bombers from Guam struck at a suspected Viet Cong troop concentration 55 miles southwest of Saigon. American pilots flew 464 sorties in South Viet Nam Tuesday, reporting 58 Viet Cong possibly killed and 146 enemy structures and 23 sampans either destroyed or damaged. South Vietnamese pilots flew 277 sorties.

Near Saigon, Viet Cong guerrillas unlimbered two mortar attacks against the base camp of the U. S. 25th Division at Cu Chi 18 miles northwest of Saigon. The tent city sustained minor damage and U. S. casualties were light, the U. S. military command said.

Back-Troops Day In U.S. Senate

West Germany Censured

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was back-the-troop day in the Senate and members responded by voting to censure an ally, West Germany, in the name of supporting U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

By a 56-33 vote, the Senate wrote into the foreign aid bill Tuesday a statement that Bonn's guarantee of financing for a privately contracted steel rolling mill in Red China is a grave blow to "the safety" of American and allied troops" in the Southeast Asian conflict.

This represented an irritated response to lack of allied help in the war. But the overriding objective of those who supported the proposal was to get on the record with their backing for the men in uniform.

This was demonstrated when 14 Democrats and 10 Rpeublicans whose seats are at stake in this year's election voted for what Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., called an insulting statement of censure.

Only three Democrats and two Republicans whose jobs are up for grabs in November backed the administration's efforts to avoid the congressional slap at Bonn.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., started the ruckus by proposing a flat condemnation of West Germany. Even after his amendment was adopted Byrd voted "no" when the Senate passed the aid bill, 66 to 27.

Administration leaders succeeded in watering down the wording of his amendment to make it apply generally to any ally who furnished help to Red China. But they lost two roll-call attempts to sidetrack the proposal.

Kuchel, the assistant Republican leader, took the lead in trying to turn aside a declaration he said tried to dictate to a valued ally how it should conduct its foreign trade.

"We've got to take friends as we find them," Kuchel said. "We can't pick out one of our friends and tweak its nose on how it will conduct its trade."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, chimed in that the censure move was "very risky business . . . we have very few friends left."

Anyhow, he said, it wouldn't do any good. He added that the steel mill won't be built for three years and chided those he said seemed to think the Viet Nam War is going on forever. He said Australia, with fighting men in Viet Nam, still trades with Red China.

Sen. Roman J. Hruska, R-Neb., challenged Fulbright's contention that a rolling mill was not an arms plant.

"How far is steel produced in Communist China from arms and ammunition?" he demanded.

West Germany has contended the mill will not produce steel but simply proces steel already manufactured and thus will not enlarge Red China's steel-making potential and increase its ability to wage war.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said that if the fighting men in Viet Nam had a chance they would vote 99 per cent for the amendment.

When the uproar subsided, 35 Democrats and 21 Republicans voted for the censure, while 25 Democrats and eight Republicans opposed it.

Speck Faces Arraignment On Monday

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Speck, 24, indicted in the slaying of eight student nurses, faces arraignment Monday.

The Circuit Court's criminal division announced the date Tuesday after the grand jury handed down eight indictments charging the former odd-jobs man with murder.

The grand jury spent Monday hearing testimony then handed the indictments to Judge Edward F. Healy. Customarily, defendants are arraigned a week from the day indictments are returned. Judge Healy cautioned, however, that such procedure is subject to change.

Before the indictments were voted, Speck had been charged with slaying Gloria Jean Davy, 22, of Dyer, Ind. She is believed to have been the first of the nurses to die in the July 14 massacre.

Speck is reported to be recovering from a chest ailment and self-inflicted cuts.

May End Up Urging Its Defeat

GOP Withholds Support Of Housing Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders are withholding their support of a controversial open housing provision and may end up urging its defeat.

The compromise proposal, part of an omnibus civil rights bill now before the House, would bar discrimination in the sale or rental of housing but would exempt individual homeowners and agents acting on behalf of individuals.

The House GOP Policy Committee met Tuesday to take a stand on the provision. But it found opinion so divided that it postponed action until it can poll all Republicans in the House.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the Nationl Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told a news conference Tuesday night that the compromise would exempt such a large portion of the available housing that "there would be a grave question as to whether this section on housing would be of much value."

Wilkins, acting as chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, a group of civil rights organizations supporting the bill with certain changes, called upon the House to strike the compromise amendment and restore the open housing section to the form submitted by President Johnson.

The original bill barred discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing.

Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said a poll of the members should be completed Thursday, when the committee is scheduled to meet again. Indications were that if a majority of the Republicans oppose the section the leadership will refuse to endorse it.

The bipartisan coalition that has put previous civil rights bills through the House without much trouble has failed to develop this year because of opposition to any open housing legislation.

National Emergency Or Nuisance?

Congress Sifts Air Strike

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced that President Johnson will set up an emergency board today to postpone for 60 days a threatened strike against American Airlines by members of the Transport Workers Union.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress starts considering today whether the 20-day airlines strike is a national emergency or just a multimillion-dollar nuisance.

Witnesses for the five grounded airlines, the striking machinists' union and the Defense, Labor and Post Office departments open a Senate hearing on special legislation to halt the strike.

"I think it does constitute an emergency," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who appeared ready to seek quick passage if the Senate Labor Committee votes out a strike-stopping bill.

But P. L. Siemiller, president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists complained "the continued interference by the legislative branch of government is delaying the final time when agreement can be reached."

Chief airlines negotiator William J. Curtin is expected to tell the committee that the strike is "an urgent national problem" and that Congress should act to end it.

AFL-CIO President George Meany issued a statement supporting the machinists' stand that while the strike is inconveniencing the traveling public, it presents no threat to the nation's welfare or to national defense. Meany, who urged defeat of any strike legislation, is not a witness.

The government's star witness is Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. The Labor Department declined to say what line of argument he would take, but indications were that Wirtz would report serious strike effects on the nation's economy.

The Senate committee has before it two strike-ending proposals — one by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who wants the 35,000 striking machinists ordered back to work for six months while government mediators seek a solution, and another by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has urged compulsory arbitration.

Dirksen also said the Republican Policy Committee had instructed him to prepare a resolution to fix "dual responsibility" on President Johnson and Congress for solving the strike.

Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., of the House Labor Committee, scheduled a hearing on the strike for Friday, and presumably would be in a position to push quick action if the Senate acts by then.

The Senate committee hearing was postponed suddenly Tuesday for 24 hours, stirring brief but baseless hopes the negotiators would take another stab at melting what the Labor Department described as "frozen" negotiations.

The delay was merely to give government witnesses more time to prepare testimony.

"There is no negotiating going on," said a spokesman for the five airlines — Easter, United, National, Northwest and Trans World. The Labor Department confirmed this.

Crucible Runs Into Another Meeting Snag

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Supreme Court issued an order Tuesday further delaying the annual stockholders meeting of Crucible Steel Co., target in a fight for control.

The meeting originally had been scheduled for April in Pittsburgh, base of the steel manufacturing firm. Dissident stockholders obtained in the circuit court an order delaying the meeting to August.

The appellate court reversed this order last week but Chief Justice Ray Klingbiel of the Illinois Supreme Court ruled yesterday that the meeting be put off until after the full Illinois Supreme Court has an opportunity to adjudicate the issue of jurisdiction. The Supreme Court will reconvene Sept. 12.

In setting aside the circuit court ruling, the Illinois Appellate Court questioned whether the litigation belongs in Illinois. The company is incorporated in New Jersey and only a fraction of its sales and assets are in Illinois.

No Love Is Being Lost

It is a fair guess for the history-minded that one of the few deeply significant events of the 20th century is the European Common Market.

When the six members of the Common Market reached agreement on major agricultural prices in Brussels early last Monday morning, the news was headlined in Europe. It brought closer the realization of free trade among the 185 million people who live in France, Italy, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

If progress continues, the economic interests of the six nations will have been harmonized by July 1, 1968.

Like all major ideas, European economic operation is old. It goes back 360 years. It was talked about after both world wars. It was urged by the United States while Marshal Plan aid was being given to Europe.

Substantial progress was made in 1951 when the European Coal and Steel Community treaty was signed by the same governments now hammering out agreements on such prosaic items as tomatoes and cauliflower.

It is at this stage that the eternal paradox of progress is presented most dramatically. The paradox is the fact that when prospects for agreement on details are dim prospects for progress in general become bright.

As observers have pointed out about the exhausting negotiations in Brussels, there is nothing left there of the one-time bright spirit of cooperation; there is nothing, now but hard bargaining.

The bargainers literally give up in exhaustion, then reach agreement. But they do reach agreement. They do make progress. They do something more meaningful than talk about their high hopes.

They get down to cases and bargain—and they are making history.

So Nice To Talk About

Nationalization of the British steel industry is a lively issue again in Britain. Parliament voted 328 to 247 in favor of nationalization Monday night.

The issue is whether nationalization would do the industry and Britain a great deal of harm, or just a little harm. No one—not even the stem-winding socialists in the Labor party—could claim at this time that nationalization would be good for Britain, for the steel industry, its shareholders, or the people, themselves.

But common ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange has been an article of faith among British socialists so long they cannot put it behind them when they get into power.

They nationalized the steel industry in 1951, then were voted out of power. Conservatives restored the steel industry to private ownership. Renationalization was promised by Queen Elizabeth II in the government-written speech from the throne delivered last Nov. 3.

But subject to the rule that the broth never is served as hot as it is cooked, the renationalization issue will have time to cool off before anything can be done about it. The industry, itself, isn't as perturbed as might be expected. It is talking about expansion while Labor politicians are talking about nationalization—getting political mileage out of the issue.

Actually, nationalization would be selective. As many as a dozen leading firms would be nationalized, others left to private owners.

No one ever has argued that public ownership and management would improve operating efficiency of Britain's steel industry. The only argument for nationalization is better political coordination of the industry with government policy.

Nationalized industries account for less than 10 per cent of British employment—electricity, gas, telephone communication, coal and British Overseas Aircraft Corp.

The Geiberger Sustainer

Geiberger jelly and peanut butter sandwiches now are famous, thanks to their use by the 1966 winner of the Professional Golfers Association championship.

As every English schoolboy knows, the sandwich was invented by John Montagu, fourth earl of Sandwich. The earl, who was one of the swingers of the 18th century, was a tireless gambler and needed a goodie he could hold in one hand so he wouldn't have to miss his turn in the action. Hence, the sandwich.

Some English schoolboys don't know this, but the fourth earl of Sandwich had another name with no dignity—Jemmy Twitcher. This name belittled him, because of mismanagement of monies belonging to the admiralty.

In spite of his disrepute, the fourth earl of Sandwich also was commemorated in the name of the Sandwich Islands, later to become the Hawaiian Islands, now the 50th state of the United States.

But about Al Geiberger's now famous jelly and peanut butter sandwiches, they are more than a confection. They give the PGA champion quick energy when he is playing golf. He sustains his strength with them.

They make us wonder if the champion ever tried another combination—peanut butter and honey, blended together. This combination never was as well-known as butter and crumbly brown sugar on fresh home-baked bread, which also was a great energy sustainer, but it has worked wonders for hundreds in emergencies.

Winner Take All

By Barry Schweid

WASHINGTON

Sixty-eight of the 100 men nominated for president and vice president by the Democratic and Republican parties from 1868 through 1964 came from six states, New York, California, Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts and Ohio.

One state, New York, alone accounted for 24 of the nominations.

Were they the best qualified men? Maybe they were, maybe they weren't. But the fact that the parties chose candidates from states with plenty of punch in electoral college was no coincidence.

If a big-state candidate carries his state—and the assumption is that at least a presidential nominee can—he takes a giant step toward election.

Last week, Delaware, the fifth smallest state in population and one of the 26 whose native sons did share in the nominations, asked the Supreme Court to give the smaller states a better shake by declaring unconstitutional the "winner-take-all" system of presidential electors.

THE MOVE awakens the nagging fact that in choosing a president, Americans' votes are anything but equal.

The Constitution requires the states to choose presidential electors who in turn "elect" the president and vice president. But neither it nor federal law requires the states to use the unit-vote system whereby the candidate who gets a plurality of the popular votes in the state wins all of the state's electoral votes.

Rather, the system is a result of the laws of the states.

Delaware, in asking the court to hear a suit against the other states, claims the "winner-take-all" system "denies due process and equal protection of the laws to millions of Democratic and Republican voters throughout the United States who are out-voted at the state level."

Because larger states have a special strategic importance, Delaware says, the system keeps the major parties from nominating candidates from smaller states.

As the electoral vote is distributed now, a presidential candidate is elected if he carries the 11 largest states — New York, California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Michigan, New Jersey, Florida, Massachusetts and Indiana — and any one of the 39 other states.

A bare plurality in the 12 states is enough, even if he is trounced in the 38 other states and loses the national popular vote over-all.

IN THE last century, two presidential candidates who finished first in the national popular vote, Democrat Samuel J. Tilden in 1876 and Democrat Grover Cleveland in 1888, were denied the White House. Instead, Republicans Rutherford B. Hayes and Benjamin Harrison won the presidency through the electoral college system.

In January 1965, President Johnson proposed a constitutional amendment to tighten other weaknesses in the system. But the "winner-take-all" arrangement would be left intact.

For years, Congress has toyed with other proposals. One would establish a direct popular vote for the presidency. Another would retain electoral votes but would divide each state's vote in accordance with the popular vote in the state. A third would divide the states into equally populated districts with one electoral vote each.

While these have failed to gather momentum, the Supreme Court, which set down the "one man, one vote" rule for the makeup of state legislatures and U.S. congressional districts, could take the lead in reform—provided it decides to hear Delaware.

Heat Balance

Without an occasional hurricane, the world's weather might be even worse.

The fierce tropical storms play a vital part in maintaining the heat balance between the tropics and polar regions.

The tropics and subtropics receive more heat from the sun than they lose by radiation; other regions lose more heat than they receive. Heat must be carried poleward to prevent gradual cooling of the poles and scorching of the equatorial regions. Hurricanes help keep the balance.

"If hurricane control were successful and none were allowed to go through their full life cycle," says Gordon E. Dunn, director of the National Hurricane Center at Miami, "nature would undoubtedly find some other method of maintaining the heat balance. And who can say that this new method might not be even more disastrous than the hurricane?"

At present, man is a long way from controlling hurricanes. In the 1966 hurricane season, the Weather Bureau and the Navy again are cooperating in Project Stormfury, a long-term effort. Scientists seek more knowledge of hurricanes by experimentally upsetting the delicately-balanced forces that sustain a mature storm.

Out Of The Air

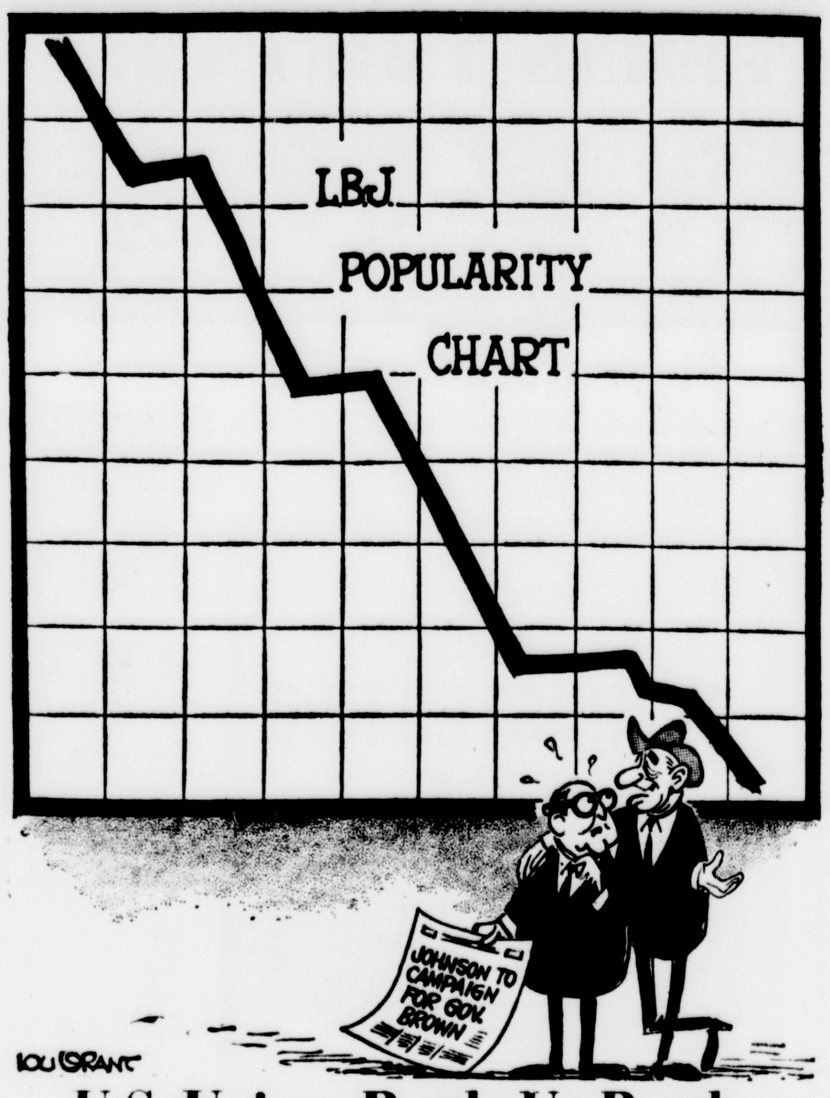
Some day people may learn to live off air. They will simply convert it into food by means of sunlight.

Green plants mastered the trick long ago. Plants take water and carbon dioxide — both available in fantastic quantitites in the atmosphere — and turn them, with the help of sunlight and elements from the soil, into the various compounds needed to grow.

Chemists have learned a great deal about the wondrous process, photosynthesis, but not quite enough to duplicate it, the National Geographic Society says.

But chemists are increasingly hopeful that they eventually will achieve artificial photosynthesis. Factory-grown food might be less expensive and just as nourishing as food grown on farms. Already scientists have found that certain substances such as Vitamin K can vastly speed up some of the processes involved in photosynthesis.

'After All, Pat, What Are Friends For?'



U.S. Unions Bottle Up Beatles

By Victor Riesel

Who is "Them"?

If you don't know who "Them" is, you definitely don't know what the "Moody Blues" are. So you're not "camp"—which is junior's way of saying hep.

Victor Riesel

Them and the Moody Blues are rock and roll sensations in England.

They're having difficulty getting into the U.S. on any basis, including, if you will pardon the expression, a cultural exchange.

Who are the cultural arbiters? Who actually rules on who can come and sing and entertain the young (and the old)?

Who sets the rules on whether the Blues—and even the Beatles and any other "alien workers"—can enter the U.S.?

The rules should be interpreted by the Justice Department or the Labor Department.

But no.

This government power, affecting hundreds of millions of dollars worth of business, has literally been taken over by a brace of unions.

These unions are the arbiters.

These unions have set up special kangaroo courts in their national headquarters at New York.

INTO THESE CHAMBERS, day after day, troop the managers and attorneys of the foreign artists, singers, players, rock and rollers, "acts" of all sorts—be it the Beatles or the Thems.

Most of the unions involved have special presidential assistants who rule on the right of the foreign entertainers to come into our land, where they can play, and what entertainment they can provide.

Take the Beatles, for example.

They now are one of the world's basic industries. Yet they cannot record their music in the U.S.

There are those who may believe this is no cultural loss.

There should be few who will agree that the decision should be in the hands of two or three union executives.

Mostly the arbiters are in the American Federation of Musicians and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

These discoveries are due to the travail of Linda Gialanella, the president of the Beatles Fan Club of Essex County, N.J.

When she heard that the Beatles are due in the U.S. after their turbulent tour of Asia (where they had a sort of B-52 impact all their own), Linda wrote to her senator, Harrison Williams.

Why, she asked, are they not coming to New Jersey? Why were they not permitted to holler and rock and roll in the Garden State during their last tour?

Sen. Williams, never one to overlook the suffering of a constituent, made inquiries.

THE BEATLES, he was told by the U.S. government, are foreign workers—sort of alien corn.

To get in the U.S. they need what is called H-1 or H-2 permits.

The first means they must prove they are unique.

The second means they are of general character and must be more closely examined so it can be certain that they are not replacing other, more endemic American talent.

The correspondence between Linda and her now personal senator has grown to Library of Congress proportions. But what Mr. Williams is saying to the Beatle-nik is that the foreign performers must post an itinerary and cannot swerve from it—and that musical performers entering the U.S. on a temporary workers' visa must have such a fixed intinerary agreed to by the Musicians' Union here before they leave their country of origin.

IF THE ITINERARY has not been set prior to departure from their country, neither the Beatles nor any other such entertainers can take new bookings after their arrival.

The Beatles or Them may be a minor matter to many citizens, but the principle is immense.

In the immortal phrase of the Beatles: Yeah, Yeah, Yeah, the pendulum is swinging too far over, it appears.

The Obvious

By David Lawrence

Additional Thoughts On Rioting

This may become known as the era of illusion and fallacy — the period of the alibi — when the biggest crime wave in American history is blamed on sociological conditions, poverty and lack of education or employment opportunities. President Johnson in a speech at Indianapolis last Saturday said:

David Lawrence

"For decades Americans have enjoyed the highest standard of living on earth. By 1960 our economy had slowed down and become sluggish but for the last 65 months, it has moved further and faster than the most optimistic 'Pollyanna' ever predicted."

The President quoted with approval an unnamed observer who had written that the United States in 50 years not only has beat off depressions but has created the "most wealthy, healthy and educated nation the world has ever seen at any time or at any place."

The paradox goes even further when the words of experienced police officers are read. They tell how passions have been aroused and voice a belief that violence in the streets is planned and organized.

Although there are white as well as Negro hoodlums and crime is not confined to any race or ethnic group, the tendency of administration spokesmen is to argue that conditions in the slums and the plight of the poverty - stricken and jobless Negroes are the principal reasons for the chain of riots that have been sweeping the big cities of the country.

THE OBVIOUS CAUSE of it all is ignored. Every police officer knows that, once street "demonstrations" are initiated and passions are aroused, this furnishes a chance for the criminally minded to begin using firearms and throwing fire bombs, while other members of the mob take advantage of the disorder to steal from stores and carry on the vandalism.

Police superintendents in various cities who have been interviewed say that a "spirit of restlessness" and a "contempt for law" are growing and that some of this is due to leniencies in the courts.

Police officials complain they are hampered, for instance, by recent rulings of the Supreme Court of the United States. They are discouraged also by charges of "police brutality," which tends to intimidate and restrain officers of the law.

Whites and Negroes, moreover, with plenty of education — including even some clergymen — have been telling their less-fortunate brethren that they have a right to disobey laws which they consider unjust and that "violence" is a proper expression of frustration and resentment.

There have been hoodlums for many decades but the police have been able to keep the crimes from affecting the community as a whole.

What has happened, then, to cause this change?

The sanction given to street "demonstrations" by influential persons in both political parties may well be an underlying cause of the riots. The administration here has been reluctant to denounce "demonstrations" except in the vaguest terms.

TE ONLY REMEDY is for the federal government to support local authorities in prohibiting all "demonstrations" in the streets and on the highways that are likely to provoke disorder. It could be required that gatherings on highly controversial issues be held inside auditoriums or stadiums, where there is ample opportunity to use radio, television and other forms of communication, and where the privileges of free speech and free assembly may be fully exercised.

Naturally, subversive groups take advantage of unrest of any kind. Indeed, some have staffs of experts who train demonstrators in the techniques of rioting. While there has been no disclosure of the identities of those persons who have been intensifying the demonstrations, the chances are that they begin their plotting after civil-right leaders announce the time and place. This creates an opportunity for the malcontents to get into the scramble.

There are, moreover, many whites and Negroes who have come to believe that by demonstrations and disorders they somehow or another will get money handed to them on a platter.

The mistaken theory that the government is about to give something free to everybody, with no work to ge done to earn it, has permeated in many communities. If the concept of street "demonstrations" means that a person may expect as a result to get something for nothing, the police will have more and more crises on their hands in the suburbs as well as the cities.

Odd Facts

Computers may have a far greater effect on transportation systems than the glamorous supersonic transports. By the 1970s' some engineers believe, electronic computers may be managing the rating, routing, sizing, packaging, billing, and auditing of freight on all modes of transportation.

Students of agricultural history searched historical literature in vain for knowledge of the kinds of wheat grown in California during the Spanish period. Then they turned to the adobe walls of colonial buildings. Adobe bricks proved a treasurehouse of wheat and other seeds perfectly preserved for hundreds of years.

Physicists have a search on for the quark. This is a fundamental particle whose charge is a fraction of an electron's.

Scranton Signs Scholarship And Loan Legislation

HARRISBURG (AP) — A $17.6 million college scholarship and loan program has been signed into law by Gov. Scranton. The bill is some $10 million higher than originally recommended by his administration.

It appropriates:

— $12.6 million for scholarships, with up to $600,000 to be used for administration of the scholarship program.

— $4 million to guarantee loans to college students.

—$1 million for assisting state-owned colleges to secure federal funds for student aid.

Originally, Scranton had proposed $4 million for scholarships and $3 million for loans.

The Republican Senate increased this to $8 million and $4 million, respectively.

When the legislation reached the House, however, it was shelved in favor of the House's own $17 million version, which subsequently was accepted by the administration in light of a $135 million budget surplus from the last fiscal year.

Three-Day Reunion Is Held By Newell High Class Of '56

A three - day reunion featuring a bowling party, a picnic and a tour was held over the weekend by the 1956 graduating class of the former Wells High School in Newell.

The bowling party was held Friday at Tri - State Lanes near Calcutta, the picnic at Rock Springs Park on Saturday and the tour at the former high school building, now Wells Junior High.

A coffee hour also was held at the school.

Twenty - seven attended.

Prizes were awarded the following:

Norman and Mary Lou Phillips Jividen of California, for traveling the farthest distance; Donna Robinson Smith, for being the most recently married; Lois Jean Howell Adkins, married the longest; Janice Jennings Harris, having the most children, seven, and Walda Juszczak Cline and Lois Jean Howell Adkins, each with three.

Norman Jividen achieved high single score in bowling for men and Margaret Conway Rennix for women.

The champion horseshoe pitching team consisted of Alfred Bowen and Shirley Adkins.

The children participated in a penny scramble and various races.

Three former teachers of the class — Mrs. Ray Shilling, Mrs. Caroline T. Mountford and John Robison — were guests at the coffee hour Sunday.

The class prophecy of 1956, read by Joseph Elder, was followed with a reading of the 1966 revised prophecy.

Inscribed coffee mugs and address lists were presented each classmate as souvenirs.

The group voted to hold another reunion in 1971.

First Lady To Wear Yellow Dress For Luci's Wedding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will wear a mimosa yellow dress for her daughter Luci's wedding Aug. 6.

The First Lady had some final fittings at the White House Tuesday with designer Adele Simpson of New York.

One thing Mrs. Johnson wanted to make sure was that she had enough room in the dress to raise her arms freely so she can dance at the White House wedding reception. "I have a tall husband," she reminded the designer.

The First Lady's two White House aides — Bess Abell, social secretary, and Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary — also will wear wedding costumes by Miss Simpson, who has been designing clothes for Mrs. Johnson for some time.

Luci, who will wear a traditional long white bridal dress, chose floor-length gowns in shades of pink morie for her bridesmaids.

Temperatures have been hitting the high 90s in Washington and the wedding planners are beginning to worry that morie may be quite hot to wear in the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. The big church where the wedding will be held is not air-conditioned.

The final round of parties begins next Monday when Ambassador and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman give a big evening reception to introduce the Washington diplomatic corps to Luci, her fiance, Patrick J. Nugent, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard P. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

The elder Nugents are due at the White House Monday. They will remain as presidential house guests until after the wedding.

American Actor's Car Rams Auto, Italian Driver Killed

PISA, Italy (AP) — A car driven by American movie actor William Holden crashed into the rear of another car Tuesday night and the Italian driver of the other car was killed, Pisa police reported today.

Holden, 48, and two sisters with him — Sara and Susan West of New York — were not hurt. The actor said they were daughters of friends who are staying at Montecatini, a nearby spa. He said he was driving them to Viareggio, a seaside resort.

Police said Holden's car hit the rear of a small car about 10:15 p.m. near Pisa on a superhighway from Florence to the Ligurian seacoast. The small car hurtled into another lane and overturned.

Holden, however, said the other car veered into his from the left and then overturned.

The only occupant, Giorgio Valerio, 42, of Prato, Italy, died en route to a hospital.

The Pisa police impounded Holden's car, the usual procedure in a fatal accident. They said they would make a report to an investigating judge who will decide whether any charges will be filed.

Holden announced in 1963 that he and his wife, former actress Brenda Marshall, had separated. They had been married for 25 years and have two sons, 22 and 20 years old.

Eight years ago, Holden left the United States to live in Switzerland. He has wide business interests, including a chain of 11 hotels and lodges in Kenya, a radio station in Hong Kong and an electronic company in Japan.

Collection Rises, But Cases Drop In County Courts

LISBON — The three Columbiana County courts collected more money in the first six months this year than during January-June of 1965, but handled 99 fewer cases.

The total collection was $40,974, up $694 over the $40,280 for the first half of 1965.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey's semi-annual report shows the three courts at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine handled 1,614 criminal cases and 615 civil cases. The total of 2,2229 compares with 2,328 for the first half last year.

The county treasurer received $16,349 from fines and $10,650 from court costs. The state received $11,275, representing 45 per cent of fines in State Highway Patrol cases, and $100 in other fines.

The sheriff, constables and city police received $2,600 in fees.

Storm

age was caused. The firm, which suffered heavy loss of records in the basement from water three years ago, now stores records on a higher floor, a spokesman said. In the 1963 storm, water went to the ceiling of the basement.

Five feet of water stood in the 6th St. underpass entrance of Crucible at one time, motorists reported.

Crucible officials said there was only minor damage in the plant from the storm and water.

Mayor Eli Corak, present in shirtsleeves at the flood scene yesterday, said new sewers and catch basins were installed between 6th St. and 8th St. following the flood tthree years ago.

He said the present flooding is due to the inadequate sewer system in the 9th St. district, adding that he believes the sewer is crumbling or may not be sufficiently sloped to the main sewer in Railroad Lane.

THE MAYOR reported the Robinson Pipe Co. of Washington, Pa., is to begin work on sewers Thursday, operating between 8th and 11th Sts. and using a television camera to survey the mains and determine the problem.

He said as soon as the firm presents a report, action will be taken to correct the situation.

As much as six inches of water entered stores and basements in the area. Three inches of water stood in the basement of St. George's Serbian Orthodox Church at 10th St.

At the other end of town, Ernie's Pharmacy basement was flooded with 12 inches of water, but Ernie Dostalik said he was able to move stored items so that there was only slight damage to stock.

The Duquesne Light Co. reported 27 customers were without power for almost three hours in the Hillcrest Manor area when wind damaged distribution wires. A customer along the Midland - Fairview Rd. was without electricity for 49 minutes when lightning hit a line, causing an automatic cutoff.

The Bell Telephone Co. also reported damage to wires and loss of service to customers.

Robert Cousins, manager of the district, said 30 drop wires in the lower section of Midland were downed by limbs or trees falling during the storm.

He said a 150-pair cable in the Crucible plant became wet, putting 30 mill extension phones out of service. However, there was incoming and outgoing service at the plant, he said.

There is still some scattered cable trouble, he said, which might cause noisy lines until it is corrected. Bell repairmen worked until 11 p. m. restoring service.

The damage in the western area of the borough to trees was attributed to the high winds. One witness said the violent gusts followed a path and had the semblance of a small tornado.

Various Fines Levied In Southwest Court

LISBON — Edward A. Deville, 25, of Lisbon, charged with passing at a hill crest, was fined $15 and costs Tuesday by acting Judge Richard D. Kennedy in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Fined $10 and costs were Harry L. Bruner 55, Augusta, unsafe vehicle; Ronald J. Beadnell, 18, Hanoverton, speeding, and Linda A. Stuckey, 21, Hanoverton, left of center.

Jimmy Pittman, 26, Melvindale, Mich., forfeited a $25 appearance bond on an insecure load charge.

Thant Backed By Soviet For New UN Term

MOSCOW (AP) — U Thant has been assured the support of the Soviet Union for another term as secretary-general of the United Nations but says he has not made up his mind yet, informed sources reported today.

The sources said Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told that during a long talk Tuesday the Soviet government wants him to accept re-election when his current five-year term expires Nov. 3.

Thant was said to have replied he has not decided whether to be a candidate but would take the Soviet attitude into consideration.

Thant is to announce by early September whether he will seek re-election. Soviet support for another term had been reported from the United Nations as early as last April.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey announced U.S. support of a second term for Thant last month, and Britain and France also have endorsed a second term publicly. With this lineup of support there is no doubt Thant can remain in the post if he wants to.

The secretary-general is chosen by the General Assembly on recommendation of the Security Council. The General Assembly's annual session begins Sept. 20.

Thant has urged U.N. members to try to find another candidate. He is known to want to spend more time with his family and to return to his home in Burma, which he has been away from for 10 years. But he has said he will put the interests of the world organization first.

Don't Write President, Army Volunteers Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more soldiers anxious to serve in South Viet Nam have been writing to President Johnson and congressmen asking for help.

This annoys the Army. So it has put out the word which says, in effect: "Go through channels."

The Army's irritation shows through in a "personnel letter" distributed this month.

It says: "In recent weeks, there has been a considerable increase in correspondence from soldiers who claim to have volunteered for Viet Nam.

"Many of these letters are to the President and members of Congress.

"The tone of most of these letters is 'I have volunteered and haven't heard anything. Please take action to send me there.' "

It appears, the personnel letter said, that "many soldiers do not realize that VIP correspondence will not expedite nor provide preferential action on volunteer applications, and that such correspondence cannot be used in lieu of a formal application submitted through channels."

The Army letter added that "it is rare indeed for a congressman or other person in authority to ask for anything more than an explanation and/or information upon which to base a reply."

In what sounded like a mild rebuke to commanders, the personnel letter instructed these troops leaders to publicize procedures for volunteering for Viet Nam.

It said:

"Soldiers should be informed that the number of volunteers in many specialties exceeds requirements and that delay in assignment to Viet Nam can be anticipated in some specialties.

"Soldiers should be advised that applications are processed through channels as expeditiously as possible and are acted upon as vacancies occur in Viet Nam."

Rising Computer Role In Education Stressed

The growing role of computers and other scientific aids in modern education was outlined by Don Harmon of New Jersey, a former local resident now manager of technical planning for the education division of the Xerox Corp., at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

His talk was titled "Mark Hopkins to Buck Rogers".

Manufacturers of the components of a learning system, the speaker said, must insure that they are "sufficiently varied and flexible to be useful by students of widely differing ability in the same classroom."

Further, he continued, the system "must maximize the effective utilization of the teacher's time by providing incentives for the student to work on his own, including specific rewards where possible for mastering the material." It must emphasize the pupil's responsibility to learn as well as the teacher's responsibility to teach, he added.

The learning system should contain diversified elements to be effective, being presented through the media of books, films, television, or a combination of these. The subject matter should not be forced into any single one of these methods of presentation, he stressed.

Harmon discussed experiments being conducted by several companies in the area of computer assisted instruction.

The speaker was introduced by Marvin Kinsey, program chairman.

Visiting Rotarians were Alex Della Valle of Midland and Arthur Wells of Perth, Western Australia.

Clifford Hindley gave the invocation.

Arthur V. Doak presided.

A late Tuesday night fatality occurred in Columbus, on North High Street along the Ohio State University campus. A motorcyclist failed in trying to pass an auto on the right, the resultant collision killing him.

The Tuesday victims:

Giants Bump Pirates From Lead As Dodgers Close In

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Ferrara mastered Beethoven and Brahms when he was 16 years old. Now, he's finally coming of age as a swinger.

Ferrara, who gave up a promising future as a concert pianist 10 years ago for baseball but failed in two previous major league trials, stroked the key hit for the second straight game Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Philadelphia 3-2 and remained in the thick of the National League pennant scramble.

The husky outfielder's pinch-hit single in the ninth inning drove in the winning run, capping a two-run rally that extended the third-place Dodgers' victory string to five and left them 1½ games off the pace.

San Francisco regained the league lead from Pittsburgh with an 8-3 triumph over the Pirates as Gaylord Perry recorded his 15th victory in 17 decisions.

A year ago Ferrara may have regretted his decision to pass up the concert hall for the diamond. The 6-foot-1, 203-pound muscleman was finishing out the season at Spokane after blowing his second chance to make the Dodger varsity.

But Walter Alston gave the Brooklyn strongboy another shot this spring and Ferrara hasn't disappointed the Dodger manager.

In Monday night's 6-3 victory over the Phillies he ignited a decisive three-run rally in the eighth inning with a tie-breaking single. Tuesday night's game-winning hit boosted his batting average to .250 and his RBI total to 20.

Elsewhere, St. Louis nipped Atlanta 4-3, Cincinnati outslugged Chicago 9-6 and New York shaded Houston 5-4.

In American League action Cleveland topped Baltimore 7-4, Minnesota trimmed New York 6-3, Boston overpowered Kansas City 8-5, Washington whipped California 6-2 and Detroit beat Chicago 3-1.

Jim Hart, hitless in his previous 18 trips to the plate, cracked a three-run homer in the first inning, sparking the Giants to their second straight victory over Pittsburgh.

Perry allowed seven hits, including Roberto Clemente's two-run homer, before giving way to reliever Bill Henry in the seventh. Henry and Lindy McDaniel checked the Pirates the rest of the way.

The resurgent Cardinals overcame a 3-2 deficit in the eighth on Mike Shannon's two-out, two-run homer and pulled out their eighth victory in the last nine games. Hank Aaron's 30th homer pushed the Braves ahead in the seventh before Shannon unloaded.

Deron Johnson's three-run homer climaxed a four-run uprising in the eighth, lifting the Reds past the Cubs in a game that produced six circuits. Billy Williams smashed two homers and Randy Hundley one for Chicago. Jim Coker and Tony Perez also connected for the Reds.

The Mets, who have won nine of their last 12, snapped a 4-4 tie on Ed Bressoud's run-scoring single in the sixth and held off Houston behind rookie Rob Gardner, who pitched four hitless innings in relief of winner Bob Shaw.

PIAA Wins Friends After Questioning At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association was scrutinized by the legislature Tuesday and made at least two firm friends among the lawmakers.

"You're doing a good job, keep up the good work," Rep. Samuel W. Frank, D -Lehigh, told Ted Wanger, acting PIAA executive director, at the conclusion of a special House hearing.

Rep. Jeanette Reibman, D - Northampton, chairman of the House investigating committee, also praised the organization.

"I think the PIAA is doing a very good job," she said. "It appears that much of the criticism leveled against the PIAA is due to misunderstanding rather than poor policy."

Mrs. Reibman's committee was formed under a House resolution stemming from the Williamsport - Plymouth interdistrict basketball playoff game last season.

Williamsport won the contest in double overtime after a disputed referee's call permitted it to tie the game seconds before the end of regulation time.

The resolution resulted after the PIAA refused to hear a Plymouth protest challenging the official's decision.

Wanger said the call involved an official's judgment and challenges of judgment decisions were not permitted under the PIAA constitution.

Plymouth Coach John M. Evan told the committee that he agreed Wagner's position was dictated by PIAA rules, but added:

"It appears that no wrong can be commited by officials. If that is so, we must go to great pains to select our best officials for these championship games."

A scholastic sportswriter, Paul Kurtz, told the committee he felt the matter should have been handled within the PIAA and not be presented to the legislature.

Kurtz, who said he has covered high school sports for 40 years, added that if such a protest were made in the WPIAL or Pittsburgh, it would have been settled locally and "not brought before this honorable body for a silly interpretation."

Lee Rauscher, a Wlikes-Barre sports editor, however, felt PIAA regulations on protests should be revised.

"I sympathize with Mr. Wagner's position," Rauscher testified. 'He has to rely on the official' report.

"But I do have a gripe. It seems as though there is no sense in protesting a game. The PIAA rules do not give you the chance to protest."

Mrs. Reibman said her committee would have to study the testimony at the day-long session before determining what type of report to present to the general assembly.

Midland, Aliquippa Game Is Called Off

Rain forced postponement of the Midland Post 481-Aliquippa playoff game Tuesday at Midland. The first game in the series was played Monday but ended in a tie. The contest was rescheduled for Friday at 6 p. m. at Crucible Field. A best two-out-of-three series will be played to determine the playoff champion in the Beaver County Legion League.

Parsons & Fenton Combine To Hurl Playoff No-Hitter

Dan Parsons and Tim Fenton combined for a no - hitter as Potters Bank & Trust defeated T. S. & T. 9-5 in the first of the best two of three playoff series Tuesday at LaCroft field. The second game of the series will be played Thursday at 6 at LaCroft.

Parsons and Fenton each pitched three innings and combined for nine strikeouts.

Besides having a hand in the no - hitter, Fenton led the Potters at the plate with a triple and drove in three runs.

Both teams gave up a host of walks and pitchers Robin Reed and Dean Ward of T. S. & T. teamed up for a five hitter and fanned 12 batters.

Keith Harmon starred defensively for Potters with a fine catch of a line drive in right-center field with a runner on base in which Harmon turned it into a double play. Don Thompson also made a leaping catch of a line drive in the sixth inning.

Name Given Indian In Atlanta's Teepee

ATLANTA (AP)—The Indian who dances in Atlanta's teepee when the Braves hit home runs has been named Chief Nockahoma.

The name was announced Tuesday night by the Braves, who pointed out that it was appropriate because Atlanta sluggers have hit 124 home runs, tops in the majors.

Oliva Leads AL Hitters

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Oliva is leading the league in batting, Frank Robinson has hit seven homers in the last eight games and Willie Horton is breezing along at a .500 pace for the last week.

So who's the hottest hitter in the American League?

Would you believe Bob Saverine?

Oliva rapped two hits, Robinson tagged his 29th homer and Horton had four straight hits Tuesday night but Saverine continued to set the fastest pace with three hits giving him 10 safeties in his last 16 swings.

Horton's four straight hits drove in all of Detroit's runs as the Tigers downed Chicago 3-1. Oliva drove in two runs with his 19th homer and raised his average to .331 as Minnesota defeated New York 6-3.

Robinson's 29th homer couldn't save Baltimore from a 7-4 defeat by Cleveland. Saverine helped Washington dump California 6-2. Boston rapped Kansas City 8-5 in the other AL game Tuesday night.

Horton, with 11 hits in his last 22 swings, has raised his average 21 points from .252 to .273.

Willie doubled home Norm Cash with the tying run in the fourth and then drove in other Detroit runs with singles in the sixth and eighth.

Mickey Lolich, who went five innings, got credit for his ninth victory with Dave Wickersham finishing up.

Frank Howard and Ken McMullen drove in two runs apiece for the Senators and Saverine contributed three singles and scored twice.

Howard, batting for Willie Kirkland, delivered a two run single in the third and McMullen tripled following hits by Ed Brinkman and Saverine in the sixth.

His 10-for-16 string has raised from .236 to .266.

Oliva, chasing a third straight hitting title, grabbed the batting lead with two hits against the Yankees. He ripped a two-run homer in the first and doubled in front of Don Mincher's run-scoring single in the seventh.

The hits lifted the Minnesota slugger's average to .331, six points better than Baltimore's Russ Snyder.

The Orioles came out on the short end of a long-ball duel with the Indians. Cleveland walloped five home runs—two each by Rocky Colavito and Leon Wagner and one by Fred Whitfield—to outmuscle Baltimore.

Robinson and Luis Aparicio homered for the Orioles, who still lead Detroit by a fat 11 games.

Joey Foy ripped two homers for the Red Sox and Dennis Bennett won his first game since undergoing arm surgery.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Willie Horton, Tigers, lashed four straight hits and drove in all three runs as Detroit defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-1.

PITCHING — Rob Gardner, Mets, pitched four innings of hitless relief saving New York's 5-4 victory over Houston for the Mets' sixth straight triumph over the Astros.

Wisconsin Court Favors Baseball

By JAMES R. POLK

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court today overturned baseball's conviction on state antitrust charges and ordered a Milwaukee court to dismiss the suit.

The 4-3 decision said the State of Wisconsin was "powerless" to enforce its own antitrust law against a sport spread from coast to coast.

A federal antitrust suit has been pending since last year in U.S. District Court in Milwaukee.

The decision erased a finding by Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller in Milwaukee that the National League and its members violated Wisconsin law in transferring the Braves franchise from Milwaukee to Atlanta at the end of last year.

Judge Roller ordered the club to return to Milwaukee unless the league provided an expansion plan that would grant the Wisconsin city a new major league franchise in 1967.

The order had been stayed pending baseball's appeal to the state's highest court.

Willard Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette, said that he was unprepared to comment immediately on whether the state would take the dispute to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The majority opinion said baseball seemed to operate as a monopoly, but added that the silence of Congress in applying antitrust laws to the sport was interpreted to mean "there is to be self-regulation until such time as Congress decides that the public interest requires other control."

The opinion cited the famed 1922 U.S. Supreme Court decision that baseball was not a business subject to antitrust regulation, and noted later rulings refusing to overturn that precedent.

Pony League Playoff Series Opens Friday

The playoff series in the Pony League will begin Friday at 6 p.m. at Dopler Field with Sevy's Drugs, the first half winner opposing George Bright's, the second half winner. A best two-out-of-three series will be played with the second game Saturday at 2 p.m. and the third game, if necessary, to follow.

Penn State, Syracuse On Regional TV

UNIVERSITY PARK — Penn State's home football game with Syracuse Nov. 5 will be televised regionally by ABC, marking the fourth straight year the Nittany Lions have been on television.

Television fans are in for a thriller if past performances are any indication because the Penn State - Syracuse rivalry has produced some of the most exciting college games of the past decade.

The series between the schools couldn't be closer. It stands at 19 victories each with five ties.

155-Pound Gogolak Tries To Keep Busy At Pro Camp

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — The little man with No. 3 on his back looks like a schoolboy lost in a forest of giants. Joe Tutgens, Jim Snowden, Fran O'Brien and the other Washington Redskins tower over the 5-foot-10, 155-pounder who might have strayed in from a high school jayvee squad.

Charlie Gogolak jogs up and down the sidelines while visitors to Dickinson College nudge one another and say, "That's the fellow who kicked all the field goals for Princeton. You know, he kicks the ball sideways."

From time to time Charlie interrupts his jogging to kick a football with that peculiar soccer-style motion. You are sure he is going to boot the ball out of bounds when he runs at it from the side but the leg comes around and the ball sails over the bar.

Charlie is a part-time performer at the Redskins' camp. He shuttles back and forth from Carlisle to the College All-Star camp at Evanston, Ill. He is available for rookie scrimmages with Philadelphia rookies and exhibition games.

Because of a slight muscle pull Charlie has had to take it easy. In his spare time he taught Otto Graham's 19-year-old son, Duey (cq), the Hungarian soccer style. After three days of practice, Otto's son kicked a 50-yard field goal. Northwestern may be getting a new whiz when young Graham reports as a freshman end this fall.

While the 255-pounders grunt and strain in the hot summer sun, Charlie flexes his muscles and tries to look busy. It isn't easy. There are some dark looks from the other athletes, who have to knock heads for a living while Charlie collects a reported $50,000 a year for three years as the Redskins' No. 1 draftee.

"I'm insulated from the rest of the squad," said the younger of the two Gogolak kicking brothers. (Pete is with the New York Giants). "I get some funny looks because I am not working so hard. But what can I do? I can't go out and run at halfback or do pass patterns. I am a specialist. I never play. I made one tackle in college in my sophomore year against Cornell.

"I can't wait for the games to start. No matter how you cut it, you still have to prove yourself under game conditions. It gets monotonous waiting. I'd like to be out there doing something."

At Princeton, Charlie set seven NCAA records. Last year he kicked a 54-yarder against Cornell against a human pyramid, since outlawed. He kicked six in one game against Rutgers and broke his brother's record with 50 consecutive extra points.

The Skins count on No. 3 to put that 3-pointer on the scoreboard when the bell rings. They don't care if he never gets that uniform dirty.

Steelers Gain Voss, Jeter In Trade With Green Bay

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a hang-'em-up, bang-'em-up, cut-'em-loose day in professional football. The trade winds whipped up briefly, too.

The Boston Patriots announced Tuesday that veteran outside linebacker Mike Dukes has decided to hang up his gear. No reason for his retirement was given.

Most of the players cut loose were rookies, but most of those banged up were veterans—among them the New York Giants' Tucker Frederickson, the National Football League's sixth leading rusher last season.

One non-rookie cut was Any Nelson, a nine-year, NFL veteran, put on waivers by the new Atlanta Falcons.

Four NFL teams were active on the trading mart. Green Bay traded veteran defensive end Lloyd Voss and rookie end Tony Jeter of Nebraska to Pittsburgh for an undisclosed high draft choice, and Los Angeles dealt a future draft pick to Philadelphia for rookie punter Jerald Circo from Chico State.

On the salary front, defensive end Darris McCord, a 12-year NFL veteran, walked into the Detroit Lines' camp and signed, while Hank Gremminger, a 10-year NFL player, walked out of the Dallas Cowboys' camp over a salary dispute. The defensive back was traded to the Cowboys by Green Bay last June.

Other signings included veteran tight end Ron Kramer by Detroit and offensive tackle Roger Kramer, a four-year veteran of the Canadian Football League, by the NFL Minnesota Vikings. Kramer had been practicing with the Lions without a contract.

Dukes, who also played with Houston in 1960 when that club won the American Football League title, and the New York Jets, made his decision known to Patriots Coach Mike Holovak via telephone.

Nelson, 33, joined the Falcons as a free agent. He last played for the New York Giants after being an all-NFL defensive back with Baltimore in 1958-59.

Frederickson, a fullback, strained his left knee during a heavy scrimmage. The full extent of the injury was not known immediately.

The duration record for nonstop seesawing is 101 hours, and was set by two boys from California in 1964.

Lema Was Carrying Over $19,000 In Pro Checks

Professional golfer Tony Lema was carrying tournament winnings amassed since January when he was killed Sunday night in a private plane crash near Munster.

A Lake County, Ind., official said Tuesday more than $19,000 in uncashed checks was found in Lema's luggage.

County deputy coroner, Dr. Albert Willardo, said checks for $19,996 were found in a briefcase. The case and Lema's clubs were among the few pieces of luggage that were not destroyed in the crash.

Dr. Willardo said that other papers found with the checks indicated that Lema had a bank account in Dallas. The doctor speculated that Lema was waiting until he arrived in Dallas to deposit the checks.

Also found in the case were 1,049 English pound notes of various denominations. Their value was about $4,000.

The doctor said the checks and the golf clubs are being held in the county coroner's office, pending the arrival of the executor of Lema's estate.

Lema's wife, Betty, also was killed in the crash. The pilot, Mrs. Doris Mullen, 43, of Joliet, Ill., suffered head injuries in the crash and was killed instantly, Dr. Willardo said. The copilot, Dr. George Bard, 41, who suffered severe chest injuries, also was killed. Dr. Bard also was from Joliet.

'Borderline' Case Wins JC Golf Tourney

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new Jaycee junior golf champion is a borderline case, but only geographically.

Jerry Lammers from the Michigan side of the state line near Toledo won the championship event that required five playoff holes before the last of Ohio's four qualifiers for the national Jaycee tournament was determined.

Lammers, 16, of Ida, Mich., finished the two-day event with 72-75--147, topping a field of 160 teen-age golfers including Larry Nicolet of Lima, who held the first round lead by three strokes.

Nicolet skied to an 80 at Marietta Country Club's par 71 links the final 18 holes, compared to his opening 68, and settled for second place one stroke back of Lammers.

Don Fobes of Cuyahoga Falls and Greg Moore of Athens grabbed the other two spots in the national championship at Greensboro Aug. 9-12--the hard way.

Fobes, Moore, Bill Donnelly of Marietta and Pretourney favorite Ralph Colla Jr. of Youngstown tied with 149's and had to go extra holes in sudden death.

Colla went out on No. 2 when he drove out of bounds and took a double bogey while Moore and Donnelly had bogeys.

Moore halved the next two holes with Donnelly before beating him on No. 5 with a par while the Marietta youth missed a four-foot putt.

Pickin Shoots 165 In Jaycee Tourney

East Liverpool's entry in the Ohio Jaycee Junior Golf tourney, Bill Pickin, fired a 75-90-165 in the two day competition at Marietta which ended Tuesday. Pickin was near the top after his first round 75 but went up to a 90 Tuesday. He was accompanied by Richard Beatty of the East Liverpool Jaycees. Par at the Marietta course was 71. A total of 164 were entered in the tourney.

Reds, City Ready To Talk On New Sports Stadium

CINCINNATI (AP) — City officials are getting ready to talk to the Cincinnati Reds about a lease for the proposed riverfront sports stadium.

The Reds would share the $45.3 million facility with a professional football team the city hopes to attract, but some critics of the project argue it would be difficult to finance the stadium without advance commitments about revenue.

Word of the upcoming contract talks came from Vice Mayor Eugene C. Ruehlmann who last leek suggested financing the stadium through $33 million worth of revenue bonds issued by the county. The rest of the money would come from other sources.

Meanwhile the Cincinnati Enquirer reported at least some officials feel the Reds are fighting a delaying action in connection with the stadium. The newspaper quoted an unnamed source as saying that such action "would be in line with rumors that Reds' owner Bill DeWitt wants to sell the ball club--with veteran baseball figure Bill Veeck as a possible purchaser."

And this is Crucible

The education of young people is of real interest to Crucible and Crucible people. That's why the company supports many and varied programs in this area. One is a training program in Data Processing, a relatively new, but rapidly growing field. The program is open each spring to graduates of greater Midland area high schools who are selected by aptitude tests and personal interviews. In the new class, which began some weeks ago, are David Rodway, Paul Smilek, Harold Neville and David Burton. During the next two years, these young men will spend time in various departments in the General Offices; attending computer school to learn operating and programming, then get on-the-job training at Crucible's own corporate computer section. When they've successfully completed the course, they will be assigned to Midland works to assume Data Processing duties which, along with thousands of others, help produce the quality steels for which Crucible is famous.

Host Of Pros To Miss 500 Golf Tourney

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Speedway's challening new course is expected to pose varied problems for the field of 150 professionals and amateur teeing off Thursday in the $92,000 seventh 500 Festival Open Golf Tournament.

But at least the battle scene will be quiet—unlike past years when half the course was inside the giant Indianapolis Motor Speedway and auto testing provided racket to shred the concentration of the steadiest pro.

Only two of the pro tour's top 10 money-winners will oppose the par 36-36—72, 7,179-yard course.

Billy Casper, current official money leader with $81,000, has captured three tournaments this season, including the U.S. Open and the Western Open back-to-back.

Frank Beard, seventh on the official prize list with $56,000 and winner of the New Orleans Open, also is entered.

Missing will be Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Doug Sanders and last Sunday's PGA champion, Al Geiberger.

But 54-year-old veteran Sam Snead, who surprised the PGA crowd with his steady play last weekend in Akron, Ohio, is expected to make the tourney, along with Bobby Nichols, last year's PGA winner Dave Marr, Lionel Hebert and Jack Cupit.

A memorial tribute was held today during a special pro-am tourney for Tony Lema, one of golf's brightest stars who died with his wife in a plane crash near Munster, Ind., Sunday night.

Pennsylvania Marine Killed In Viet Action

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP) — The war in Viet Nam has taken the life of a Washington County Marine.

The Defense Department announced Tuesday the death of Marine Pfc. Joseph L. Byrne Jr., 20, of nearby Roscoe from shrapnel while on a July 20 mission with the 4th Marines' 3d Division in Quang Tri Province.

Roves Just Too Far

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Edward Lonis, 35, roving reporter of the "Inmates Bulletin" of the Tennessee State Prison was sent out to cover a story. On the way back to the prison, he escaped from the car in which he was being transported.

Budget, Major Bills Hold Key

Pennsylvania Legislative Leaders Eye Long Recess

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislative leaders are thinking of taking an extended recess next month should an early settlement be reached on the 1966-67 budget and other major appropriations.

Majority Leader Joshua Eilberg announced on the House floor Tuesday that the legislature might recess until after the Labor Day holiday once a joint conference committee agreed on the budget.

Majority Caucus Chairman K. LeRoy Irvis, D - Allegheny, said later that appropriation bills for three major universities — Penn State, Pittsburgh and Temple — also would have to be cleared before a recess could be taken.

House Appropriations Chairman Martin P. Mullen's battle to prohibit the Public Welfare Department from using public funds as reimbursement for both control services was the key to a budget accord.

The six - man committee — three representatives and three senators, evenly divided poltically — labored for the second consecutive night to determine what areas of agreement there were on the budget.

Birth control, the most spirted issue to confront the lawmakers this session, is not expected to be conidered by the conferees until the less controversial areas are dealt with.

Mullen and Eilberg were directed by their caucus to pursue the birth control ban in the conference committee. These instructions are binding until changed by the caucus.

The Republican Senate caucus however, left its two members of the committee free to negotiate the question as they see best.

"I would say most of our caucus is opposed to writing a restrictive clause on birth control into the budget," said Senate Appropriations Chairman Robert D. Fleming, R - Allegheny, who opposes the Mullen proposal.

"But they gave us no instructions. Historically, the practice in our caucus has been to permit conferees to negotiate with a free hand and report back before any final agreement is made."

With the budget and birth control now in the hands of the conference committee, both chambers turned their attention Tuesday to other significant matters.

These were the highlights:

State Police — The House sent to the Senate, 202-0, a bill authorizing a 250-man increase in the size of the State Police after first beating down a Republican attempt to jump the additional complement to 600.

The chamber also adopted on a voice vote a resolution to have a joint legislative committee hire an independent consultant if the state police needs more than the 250 additional troopers. The resolution must be concurred in by the Senate before a consultant can be hired.

Constitution — The Senate adopted a compromise package of constitutional amendments that would permit governors to succeed themselves for one term and lower residency requirements for voting from one year to 30 days. The measures went to the Democratic House, which reportedly has agreed to support them.

Universiites — The House Higher Education Committee released a $40.5 million appropriation for Pennsylvania State University. The Senate, meanwhile, returned to the House for concurrence in amendments a bill which would provide the University of Pittsburgh with a state-related status similar to Penn State and Temple.

Insurance — The House gave initial approval to a resolution directing the Joint State Government Commission to modernize the state's insurance laws and present its report to the next general assembly. The resolution now goes to the Senate.

Health Center Is Scheduled In Panhandle

CHARLESTON (AP — A five-county mental health center to serve northern West Virginia has received the go-ahead by the State Board of Public Works.

But the board hinged the center's development on several conditions which must be met by the local areas involved.

The conditions cited by the board include clear title of 376 acres of land at Roney's Point near Wheeling, where the facility would be located.

The board also said counties to be served by the center would have to agree to assume full financial responsibility for operation and maintenance of the center.

The site at Roney's Point is the former location of the Ohio County sanitarium.

The center, a proposal by the State Mental Health Department to provide better mental health services in communities, would cost about $957,154, the board said.

It would include a diagnostic and treatment clinic for retarded children at Roney's Point, renovation of an old hospital building at the site for treatment of adult mental retardates, plus setting up referral offices in Wheeling.

The state's estimated share in the costs would be $201,430, with federal funds paying the balance.

Jacksonville Halts Cisco's Mound Streak

By The Associated Press

Pitcher Galen Cisco took the mound against the Jacksonville Suns Tuesday night with a four-game winning streak and 24 consecutive scoreless innings.

Jacksonville spoiled his evening, knocking him out of the box while taking the first of two International League games 7-1.

The Suns also captured the nightcap 2-1 on Danny Napoleon's 11th-inning homer to run their victory streak to three games and send the Maple Leafs down to their fourth straight defeat.

In other action, Toledo swept two from last-place Syracuse, 3-0 and 6-1; league-leading Columbus beat challenging Rochester 3-0, then lost to the Red Wings, 4-1; and Buffalo nosed out Richmond 2 - 1, then was beaten by the Braves 6-4.

Luke Walker's three-hit pitching and Don Bosch's eighth homer helped Columbus down Rochester in their opener. In the nightcap, though, the Wings bounced back behind a five-hit effort by Tom Phoebus, who also hit a home run.

Toledo moved into a second-place tie with Rochester, 3½ games behind Columbus, with its sweep at Syracuse. Paul Toth gave the Chiefs only one hit—a single by Manny Jiminez—in the opener, facing just 22 men. Stan Bahnsen upped his record to 10-3 with a four-hitter and nine whiffs in the afterpiece.

Ex-Paratrooper Cools Off Before Continuing Hike

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Jean Pierre Marquant, the French ex-paratrooper, cooled it today before continuing his hike across the scorching wasteland of Death Valley.

Marquant, 28, arrived at Furnace Creek Tuesday night, saying, "I feel weak and tired, but I think I can do it."

Marquant is walking 100 miles over the sand, rocks and mountains of Death Valley in 130-degree heat. He has 84 miles behind him.

He told Ranger Homer Leach he will resume his trek today or Thursday after puttering around Furnace Creek Ranch with friends. The ranch is a resort, closed for the summer.

Marquant started the hike last Thursday to prove there "still is some adventure in America."

In 1906, Reverend Algernon Sidney Cropsey from Batavia, New York, was tried and defrocked for using higher criticism in the interpretation of the New Testament.

With skilled mechanics and repairmen not so freely available, more people are learning how to make their own minor repairs. Some are becoming amateur carpenters and painters; even making their own furniture.

This is one of the chief reasons why we now have many more accidents, cuts, bruises and burns than ever before. And, if not properly cared for immediately, sometimes a serious infection can develop.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 20. My girl friend is 18. The problem is my girl friend's 15-year-old brother. This kid is completely out of control, and nobody does one thing about it.

When he sasses his mother she yells, "Dad, come and hit Clark." He yells back, "Hit him yourself. I'm busy." Then they get into an argument about who should hit Clark. Of course, nobody hits Clark and he wins again.

Last night, my girl and I were sitting on the porch and this kid came up from behind and cracked her over the head with the telephone book. I was afraid he had fractured her skull. I lost my temper and gave him a wallop across the back. He began to bawl and holler for his dad to come and whip me.

Both his dad and mother came running. They chewed me out for laying a hand on their son. My own parents said I shouldn't have hit him. Please tell me what to do in the future. Nothing but pain stops that kid.—PUSHED TOO FAR.

Dear Pushed: You should not have hit Clark. But strictly between us, I'm glad you did. Somebody should have hit him 12 years ago.

New Tricks Needed

Dear Ann: Three years ago my niece came to live with me after she lost her mother under tragic circumstances. The girl is an adorable, affectionate 12-year-old.

She's a good student but she dawdles and daydreams so much that it irritates me. I have to help her get her clothes on in the morning or she'd never finish dressing. She pokes through breakfast and I almost have to spoon-feed her.

The child seems very happy with me. She has lovely friends and everything a young girl could wish for. I didn't have these problems with my own children. What am I doing wrong? Am I pushing her too hard? Please advise.—CLEVELAND.

Dear Cleveland: The girl came to you when she was 9. Her patterns of behavior were pretty well set. Then, too, her mother's tragic death may have had a traumatic effect on her.

Something is off kilter. You should not be helping a 12-year-old get dressed. Obviously, the girl needs professional counsel. Call the Family Service Association for an appointment. Cleveland has an especially good agency.

He Wants Out

Dear Ann: I'm engaged to marry a captain in the Marine Corps. He is the most wonderful man in the world and I am very much in love with him.

Last week he told me some shattering news — he's still in love with the girl he went with before we became engaged. The girl broke up with him for a musician who later dropper her without notice and left town. My Marine said his pride would not let him call the girl, although he has wanted to many times.

What shall I do? He has not said he will not marry me but I get the idea he is gteting cold feet. Please advise. — GIRL WITH A HEADACHE.

Dear Girl: If you think you have a headache NOW just marry a man who tells you he's in love with someone else. Give the Marine an honorable discharge. He wants out.

Confidentially

To Should I or Shouldn't I?: I am no physician but an operation to currect bunions can be painful, and it will take you off your job for awhile. Since you seem to lack confidence in your doctor, I suggest you check out his advice with two other doctors.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two young Ohioans are the leaders of nations today.

Martha Cynthia Wasson of Canton, Ohio, was elected Tuesday night as president of Girls Nation while John P. Arigoni, also of Canton, won in balloting for vice president of Boys Nation.

Grand Jury Probe In Cleveland

Varied Views Given On Race Riot

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Witnesses appearing before a grand jury probing last week's rioting in a Negro ghetto give divergent views on the causes of the outburst which left four dead and several business burned and looted.

"Broken promises from city hall, the lack of adequate housing facilities and police brutality are the chief causes of the riots," the Rev. Harry Payden, chairman of the Action Council of the Negro Pastors of Greater Cleveland told a newsman after appearing before the grand jury Tuesday.

Grand jury sessions are closed to the public.

The Rev. Donald Jacobs, president of the Cleveland chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said housing, police-community relations and unemployment were at the root of the discontent in the Hough area.

Councilman M. Morris Jackson, who is from the Hough area, said that while "the seeds of discontent had already been sown. . . there were outside influences from New York City here."

The councilman, who had asked previously that marshal law be declared to control lawless elements in Hough, said agitators here had seized an opportunity to create further unrest.

The investgation continues today with city officials, two councilmen, and residents of the Hough area among those slated to testify.

The Hough area on Cleveland East Side was relatively quiet Tuesday night under the watchful eyes of police patrols and a reduced force of Ohio National Guardsmen.

A tear gas bomb was reported thrown by white men in a passing car at a group of Negroes and National Guardsmen found a supply of firebomb material in a vacant house.

In another development Tuesday police closed the controversial JFK House for alleged housing code violations.

Mrs. Lewis G. Robinson, wife of the founder of the center for Negro Youths, said police "have no legitimate charges" against her and her husband.

Police Chief Richard Wagner told newsmen last Friday that youths responsible for firebombing in the Hough area had ties with JFK--Jomo Freedom Kenyatta--House.

The first National Guard unit to leave under a plan for gradual withdrawal of guard forces departed Tuesday. The 528 guardsmen returned to the Wooster area.

Meanwhile, the mayor has ordered Welfare Director Clarence L. Gaines to direct a "task force" of 200 in a cleanup of the Hough area starting Friday.

Gaines said it would take at least 60 days to clean up debris.

$4.5 Billion Over First Estimates

Federal Income Expected At $115 Billion For 1967

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government expects its income for the current fiscal year to rocket about $4.5 billion above original estimates, it was learned today.

The dramatic upswing in the estimated income is based on current tax rates. Any tax increase would push the total even higher.

If the new estimates materialize, tax receipts in the fiscal year which ends next June 30 would total $115 billion to $116 billion. The administration originally anticipated tax receipts at $111 billion — $1.8 billion below estimated federal spending.

Since the original estimates were made, however, there has been increased spending for the Viet Nam war and by Congress. So the expected boost in income still would not be enough to put President Johnson's budget in the black for the year.

What's the basis for the predicted increase?

Mostly an original underestimate by the Treasury Department on tax receipts, one government official said. Recent revisions by the Commerce Department of its estimates in personal income for the last 2½ years also played a role in the revision.

The possibility of a tax increase still is an open question and officials emphasized today that no decision has been made. That will depend on future developments, they said.

Some government officials have talked of a possible $10-billion tax increase next year but the new estimate of tax collections could soften that bite, if it did develop.

The administration also has come under increased pressure in recent weeks to request a tax increase to stem inflation and relieve the tight money squeeze.

Although administration leaders haven't closed the door to a possible tax increase this year, one appears unlikely at this point. A decision could be made, however, when officials review new estimates of spending and tax collections after Congress adjourns.

Johnson held out the possibility of a tax increase last week after he urged congressional leaders to hold down nondefense spending. The President said he was advised that Congress could add as much as $5 billion to $6 billion to his request for $112.8 billion for the fiscal year which began July 1.

A request for more money to fight the war in Viet Nam is expected to be presented to Congress early next year. Preliminary estimates place the figure at $6 billion although this is subject to change.

Such a request could be coupled with a request for increased corporate and personal income taxes.

For the fiscal year which ende last June 30, the budget deficit was $2.3 billion, considerably less than the $6.4 billion the administration anticipated last January when it projected tax receipts at $100 billion. Tax receipts actually totaled $104.6 billion.

GM Reports Sharp Drop In Its Earnings

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, the nation's largest manufacturing concern, has reported sharply reduced second-quarter profits. The company said lower unit sales and higher costs were to blame.

Ford Motor Co.'s six-months earnings report was due today and Chrysler Corp. will announce its figures Thursday.

GM reported a dropoff almost $100 million Tuesday for the second quarter as compared with the same period last year but company officials continued to forecast "another good year."

The giant company's earnings for April, May and June were given as $546,035,382. In the second quarter of 1965 the firm reported a record $638,460,046 in earnings.

However, sales for the quarter were off only 2.7 per cent from the previous second quarter. This year's quarterly sales figure was $5.501 billion, compared with $5.657 billion in the same period last year.

GM Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President James M. Roche explained the drop saying the early part of last year's production and sales increased abnormally as a reaction to strikes.

The officials also said second-quarter earnings were affected by lower unit sales, increased construction costs, and higher costs for labor, materials, engineering and tooling.

Earnings per share for the second quarter were $1.90 compared with $2.23 a share one year ago.

The company reported net income for the first six months of $1.14 billion against $1.275 billion for the first six months of 1965. Sales were down $12 million dollars from the all-time high in the first half last year of $11.215 billion.

The GM report by Donner and Roche said first-half sales this year, although lower, were above the long-term trend. They added the worldwide sales of GM vehicles in the period exceeded all other comparable periods in 1965 and were about 32 per cent above the average for the first six months in the four years 1961-1964.

"The economy continues strong, consumer income is rising and unemployment is at a very low level," their report said. "The current outlook is for another good year for the automobile industry."

Hearing Will Be Held In 'Go Go' Girls' Case

The operator of the Aqua Club on Route 213 at Yellow Creek, south of Wellsville, was freed on bond after pleading innocent to charges of contributing to the delinquency of minor girls by employing them as "go go" dancers during a hearing Tuesday night in Jefferson County Court at Toronto.

Judge A. H. Evans set Aug. 23 as the tentative date for a hearing for Paul Reed, 39, of Deerfield, who was cited on three separate charges.

Bond was set at $200 for each charge. Reed, operator of the Aqua Club and the Riviera Club, formerly Waterford Downs nightclub on old Route 7, is charged with employing a 15-year-old girl and two 16-year-olds as "go go" dancers on June 4.

The affidavits were filed by the mothers of the girls.

Reed, who also operates a marina and boat establishment at Berlin Reservoir, surrendered himself at the Jefferson County sheriff's office Tuesday at 10:30 a. m.

The bartender at the Riviera Club was convicted on charges of selling beer to minors at a hearing last night before Judge Evans.

James Taylor of 1735 Main St., Wellsville, was fined $50 and costs on each of two charges. Six-month jail sentences were suspended.

The affidavits filed June 24 by Mrs. Esther Wilson of 1732 Maple Ave., Wellsville, and Mrs. Ruth Dinch of 1805 Park Ave., Wellsville, charged that Taylor sold beer to their 17-year-old sons June 23.

The youths denied defense testimony that they falsified their ages when purchasing the lowtest beer.

Race Horse Trainer, Driver Has Suspension 'Suspended'

LISBON — A Columbiana trainer-driver of 15 race horses had a 60-day suspension order suspended Tuesday in Common Pleas Court on grounds of undue hardship.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard granted the motion of Robert Corey, one of 14 trainers "set down" for 60 days last month by the Ohio Racing Commission, which claimed post-race track tests showed traces of drugs in the horses' systems.

All trainers and drivers denied any knowledge of druggings.

Corey's motion accompanied his appeal to Common Pleas Court from the commission's July 19 order suspending his license as trainer-driver for 60 days from June 16. Judge Buzzard's suspension holds until Corey's appeal is decided.

Supporting his motion, Corey said he was notified of the suspension June 16 and filed an appeal with the Racing Commission June 28, requesting a hearing as quickly as possible "due to the fact that he has seven horses in training, the racing season is short, and time is of the essence."

The commission heard the appeal July 13, Corey said, and mailed him a decision July 20. Corey said the delay in the hearing and decision prevented him from appealing any decision rendered against him. He said he is unable to race his horses, which he has trained and are ready to race, and they are costing him money while inactive.

He said his losses already exceed $11,250. Corey owns seven horses and trains and drives eight horses for other owners.

Woman Hurt Slightly As Her Auto Wrecks

A Wellsville woman was injured slightly when her car went over an embankment along Route 213 south of Wellsville, Tuesday at 10 p. m.

Mrs. Wilda Clutter, 46, wife of Charles Clutter of 2200 Danbury Ave., made a right turn and thought she was on the highway. The car went off the right side, over an embankment and nosed down into a small creek that empties into Yellow Creek.

Jefferson County Deputy Sheriff Dean Coil investigated. Mrs. Clutter suffered a shoulder injury and was treated at City Hospital at 12:40 a. m. today.

Car Swerves And Hits Two Parked Autos

Three cars, two of them parked, were damaged in an accident Tuesday at 10:45 a.m. on Bank St., about 30 feet east of Chester Ave., according to city police.

Patrolman Jerry Adkins said the mishap involved a 1964 sedan operated by Howard P. Barnhouse, 57, of Columbia Ave. and parked cars owned by Thomas Baker of Shadyside Ave. and Junior Dan Keener of Stagecoach Rd.

Barnhouse said he was driving east on Bank St. when he blacked out. His car swerved across the street, hitting the parked vehicles. The Baker car bumped the Keener vehicle and then went across the street, jumping the curb and coming to rest on the sidewalk.

The front end of the Barnhouse car was damaged. Baker's 1960 sedan was heavily damaged in the front. The Keener car suffered damage to the left front fender, bumper and grill.

Barnhouse received a bump on the head.

Cars operated by Wilson E. Mercer, 66, of Chester R. D. 1 and Lenwood C. Tivis, 27, of 1799½ Arthur Ave., Wellsville, were involved in a minor collision at 11:07 a. m. on Market St. at W. 6th St.

Mercer was driving south when Tivis pulled from a parking spot. Adkins investigated.

Woman Hurt As Autos Ram

A Chester woman is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries received when the auto driven by her husband collided head-on with another at Taylor's Bend, on Route 30 near Chester, Tuesday night.

She is Mrs. Aletha Minor, 68, of 545 Indiana Ave., who suffered contusions of the forehead and left leg, a possible fractured right knee and abrasions of the right arm.

Her husband is J. John Minor, 69, who was driving the 1966 auto down the long grade leading into the bend when it was struck by the oncoming car, also a 1966 model, driven by Robert B. Wallace, 32, of Fairmont, W. Va.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Wallace's auto crossed over the centerline, causing the accident.

The motorist was taken before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester, who imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

Total damage of about $800 was estimated. The accident was timed at 11:15.

Autopsy's Scheduled In Death Of Woman

CINCINNATI (AP) — An autopsy was being performed on a woman who died Tuesday more than a month after being released from the hospital following a traffic accident.

Mrs. Loretta Hartman, 61, was pronouced dead at her suburban Groesbeck home. Police said she was a passenger in a car that struck a bus June 16 and was released from a hospital June 24.

Ohio Power Firms Share In $10 Million 'Rebate'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All but one of Ohio's major electric power companies will share in a $10 million "rebate" arising out of an agreement they entered into to provide electricity for the Atomic Energy Commission's plant at Waverly.

Seven companies in Ohio and nine in neighboring states invested capital in a 1952 venture to construct power plants along the Ohio River–in Gallia County and in Indiana–to produce the current. Special transmission lines carry it from the two plants to Waverly.

The rebate has come about, according to Edward E. Knaub, head of accounting for the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, because the government has been taking less power for the Pike County facility. This, he explained, makes more electricity from the power plants available for use by the participating companies.

The money will be paid on a pro-rata basis, depending upon how much money each firm invested in the original power plan. It will go toward paying off the debt on that investment.

None will be passed on to the private consumer, Knaub said. But it could have some bearing later, he said, since "the companies will be improving their position."

Because of the reduction in the amount of current used by the AEC plant, the companies have filed with the utilities commission a request for reducing the rates charged the government for power.

It is foreseen, said Knaub, that the amount of power used at Waverly will continue to drop even further, making even more available for the companies' own use.

Companies grouped under the title of Ohio Valley Electric Corp. in the agreement are: Cincinnati Gas & Electric, Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric, Dayton Power & Light, Ohio Edison, Ohio Power, Toledo Edison, and Monongahela Power.

Not entering the agreement was Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

A farmer gets 8 or 9 cents per quart for milk sold by stores and dealers to consumers for about 25 to 30 cents, the difference going for hauling, processing, marketing, and delivering.

Beaver Picks Trustees For New College

BEAVER — All but one of nine candidates nominated as trustees for the proposed Beaver County Community College were elected to the posts at a meeting Tuesday night at Center Township High School.

James Hood of Freedom was nominated from the floor and elected to the board of trustees of the college. Eugene Morris, an attorney of Hopewell Township chosen by a nominating committee last week, was not elected.

Others chosen trustese were William McComb of Barclay Hill Rd., electrical department official at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.; Ralph Bennett, New Brighton Area School Board member; Roy Adams of Darlington Township, Geneva College chemistry department head.

Dr. L. D. Smith, former county superintendent of schools; Dr. Milton Eger, Hopewell Township optometrist; Harvey Moore, Aliquippa construction firm operator; Mitchell Thomas of Monaca, president of the county board of education, and Harry Fry of Beaver Falls, glass firm owner.

Dr. Louis Bender of Harrisburg, director of the bureau of community colleges, outlined the work of the trustees.

He said since there is no prescribed curriculum, they will have to establish a philosophy, develop curriculum, select a site and physical facilities, design a budget, recruit a staff and work for accreditation.

"You will lose image if you do not let the public know what you are doing at all times," he declared.

"The selection of the trustees is important, and is not a matter of filling a post for recognition but for doing work," he emphasized.

The first meeting of the trustees will be announced later.

Fined $10 And Costs

NEW CUMBERLAND — Harry Thomas, 32, of Steubenville was fined $10 and costs by Squire John D. Herron here Tuesday after being charged with failure to have his vehicle under control by Hancock County sheriff's deputies.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Why Not A New Rating?

Don M. Muchmore, a political pollster and analyst of considerable repute in California, soon may enter the TV rating field. He says the procedures and techniques employed to measure TV audiences now are filled with shortcomings.

Hal Humphrey

"In my opinion, the existing samples currently in use are too static and so indoctrinated that they are not capable of providing true value judgments of instantaneous opinion," Muchmore says.

LIKE MANY observers, laymen and researchers, Muchmore is more concerned with the quality of the sample audience than its size. He believes, too, that mechanical sampling orients the family unit to testing and that it, therefore, is not truly representative of the mass audience.

Muchmore refrains from mentioning the A. C. Nielsen Co., but obviously he can't be talking about anyone else. Nielsen is the one who has the 1,100 mechanical recorders in homes around the country, and it is this sample which the TV industry slavishly abides by when making program decisions.

Up to now, TV's excuse for staying wired to Nielsen's Audimeters is that "it's the only game in town," a cheap copout because the industry has neither encouraged anyone else to enter the field nor made an effort to subsidize its own sampling apparatus.

IF MUCHMORE and his Opinion Research company set up a TV rating service he would base it on a face-to-face instead of mechanical relationship.

"This allows the interviewer to test frankness, conviction, intensity of response and all those elements used in political polling," he says.

In a Muchmore rating survey the audience would be measured for impact as well as size. He believes present techniques have concentrated too much on the "what are you watching?" approach, rather than on the "what do you want to watch?" or the "why are you watching?" approaches.

Sponsors and ad agency men admit (in off guarded moments) there is too much emphasis placed on numbers in the ratings and that programs appealing to smaller audiences frequently do a better job of selling for the sponsor, simply because those viewers are more interested in what they are seeing.

MADISON AVENUE and the networks are so number happy generally, it is going to require a lot of missionary work on Muchmore's part to unbrainwash them.

His rating, for example, requires a new sample every 30 days, a fact which should please the TV industry, except that it would mean a once - a - month rating instead of every two weeks as Nielsen now publishes from his static Audimeter sample.

Muchmore says his rating service figures to cost clients about the same as Nielsen's, assuming he could get the industry's support as subscribers. He should be warned, however, that the networks apparently have no burning desire to add another game to "the only game in town."

For some perverse reason they seem to prefer a system which is preconditioned and unreliable. Like neophytes playing roulette or dice, they resent it when someone tells them the odds they're up against.

MUCHMORE might hook them first with another service which he's developed for political clients. In addition to his political polling, he sells an advisory service on how to save their campaign or how to build one, based on the information his interviewers have gleaned from the field.

This is quite similar to networks testing their pilot films for series, but here again the sample is preconditioned with all sorts of mechanical gadgetry which they operate as they watch the film.

There is a bit of irony here, when one realizes how the networks rely so heavily on political pollsters and the interview information they put into the computers, but apparently it hasn't occurred to them to employ similar techniques in polling the public on their own TV programs.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Crime Rate Increasing In Suburbs

You can pick up a newspaper or magazine almost any day and see a headline, "Crime rising fastest in suburbs," or the like. It is becoming a respectable to say or write this today. About 30 years ago when a few of us saw this coming and said so, it was not so respectable to say. I said it then and have often said it since in this column and other media and from the platform at various places in the nation. About a quarter of a century ago, I said it at a welfare gathering in a large western city and was violently criticized during the question period by a number of leaders there. I left the meeting feeling that I had uttered something very unpopular.

Dr. Garry Myers

Recently, Dean Joseph D. Lohman of the School of Criminology at the University of California said: "The largest rate of increase of delinquency is not in the slum but suburban America."

WHY DID anybody 30 years ago see this coming? About that time there was rising the tide of restraints - to - the - winds advocated widely by prestigious child experts.

The usual explanation of growing juvenile delinquency and crime in suburbs and suburbia is that these places have inadequate police force. This is one obvious factor. Some of the offenders there are from the nearby city. But a large number of the offenders live right there. Some of them are children of the well-to-do.

Some observers also point out that commuting fathers spend less time with their children. But something else also has been happening. Here is what I wrote in 1935 in the Magazine Forum (no longer printed):

"For about a quarter of a century there has been broadcast, under the guise of 'scientific psychology,' the doctrine, not warranted by scientific facts, that restraints are disastrous to personality and mental health, even to character.

"PSYCHIATRISTS, juvenile - court specialists, and welfare workers have generally assumed that most juvenile delinquency has resulted from too strict discipline at home. But many of them our forefathers have been painted as ogres, whose philosophy of life sowed the seed of modern crime. Aided and abetted by the Freudian doctrine that when native impulses are inhibited they are sure to break out in criminal or neurotic behavior, a number of clever writers and teachers have carried on an irresistible campaign against restraints by parents upon their children.

"For at least two decades, parents, millions of them, have been told that they are savages or brutes who would lay the hand upon a child, even a toddler, to restrain him.

The upshot of it all has been that parents of the intelligentsia have believed that they should let their children do about as they please, trusting wholly to persuasion and reason for their guidance.

"A young mother of social standing would dread to confess that she had spanked her 3-year-old baby more than to admit that he had deliberately shattered a window of her neighbor with a stone or spat upon her Turkish rug.

PARENTS WITH education and social prestige have been the first to accept this doctrine of no restraint for children. It gives them a feeling of exclusiveness and superiority, causing them to look somewhat contemptuously upon those 'benighted' parents of lesser education and social standing who still believe in teaching their children the meaning of 'No.'

"Not in the police and courts of justice can we put our greatest hope for checking crime, but in parents who themselves have proved good citizens, provided they will face about and train their children in the nursery in the alphabet of inhibitions."

My bulletins "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Cured" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Pennsy Supports NYC Plan To Scrap Long-Haul Service

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The board chairman of the Pennsylvania Railroad says the New York Central Railroad's plan to scrap long-haul passenger service will take advantage of more lucrative "high-speed, medium-range service."

Stuart Saunders said the Pennsy also has been studying the problem of "long-range passenger trains which no longer serve the public need" but it has not come to a conclusion.

The New York Central announced Tuesday it plans to drop all long-haul passenger trains by the first of the year and replace them with high-speed shuttle service to compete with short-hop airlines.

The shuttles would link cities about 200 miles apart. The New York Central is experimenting with jet-propelled trains and said that "as technological developments occur we will adapt our service to the best of them."

Last week the line tested an experimental jet-propelled car they said hit speeds of 183.83 miles an hour.

At a news conference in New York Tuesday, Wayne Hoffman, the New York Central's executive vice president said a federal survey showed that 77 per cent of all passenger trips made in this country are 200 miles or less and said, "We're going where the action is. It's in the 77 per cent."

The Interstate Commerce Commission would have to approve the dropping of the long-haul passenger trains, but Hoffman said he expected no problems there.

One casualty would be the Twentieth Century Limited — the Central's luxury train linking New York and Chicago.

'Retreat' To Be Held By Methodist Women

The Wheeling District Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will hold a summer retreat Aug. 1 at the Methodist Park in Moundsville.

It will begin at 10 a.m. with a "sack lunch" at noon and the windup at 2:30. The theme will be "Dialogue With God."

The program will include a hymn sing, an in-depth "Self Study Before God," meditation and communion by Dr. Herbert Parks, district superintendent of the Methodist Church.

Add a little molasses to the dip for french toast and note the luscious brown crust.

Firm Discloses Dividend, Stock Split Of 2-For-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—An increase in the quarterly cash dividend and a 2-for-1 split of the company's common stock were authorized Tuesday by directors of Cooper Industries, Inc., meeting here.

The board of the company based in Mount Vernon, Ohio, voted to increase the quarterly dividend five cents to 50 cents a share. It was the second dividend hike in nine months.

Shareholders of the firm have been called to meet Oct. 14 in Mount Vernon to vote on the split proposal. Shares presently outstanding total 1,586,591.

Shareholders also will be asked to vote on a proposal to increase the number of authorized common shares to 10 million and on creation of 400,000 shares of a new class of preferred stock.

The company last week reported record second quarter earnings of $1.93 a share, compared with $1.07 a share a year earlier.

Students In Mexico In Pro-Castro Parade

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Nearly 3,000 university students paraded through Mexico City Tuesday night demonstrating in support of Fidel Castro and the Cuban revolution.

Chanting Castroite slogans, they called for "an end to U.S. imperialistic intervention" in Viet Nam. Hundreds of steel-helmeted police kept watch on the demonstrators and kept them away from the U.S. Embassy. There was no violence.

Pale yellow kitchen walls go well with coppertone kitchen furniture.

The description of television programming as "a vast wasteland" was first used by Chairman Newton N. Minow in 1961, when he delivered a speech before the National Association Broadcasters.

Auto Strikes Embankment, Cycle Upsets

A Wellsville area woman whose car struck an embankment along Kountz Ave. and two youths whose motorcycle overturned on Park Way were treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. Dorothy Hillyard, 40, of 510-A Campground Rd., Wellsville, suffered a laceration of the nose in the Kountz Ave. mishap about 12:50 p.m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said she was headed north in a 1962 sedan when she lost control and the car went off the left side of the highway and hit an embankment, causing moderate damage to the auto.

The accident occurred about four miles north of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Jerry Crabtree, 17, of 209 Ravine St. and Keith Matheny, 16, of 1004 St. Clair Ave. were treated after their motorcycle overturned on Park Way, north of Park Blvd., at 12:30 p. m.

The patrol said they were behind a 1965 sedan operated by Mrs. Helen Pomeroy of Elysian Way, who stopped when she saw her daughter driving past, headed in the opposite direction.

Crabtree, the cycle driver, attempted to stop to avoid hitting the sedan, but the cycle overturned and he was hurled against the rear bumper of the car, suffering abrasions of the back and the left arm. He is the son of Carl Crabtree.

Matheny, stepson of Charles Trowbridge, was treated for abrasions of the knees and chin.

Old Shoes Recovered

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — Combining the comfort of an old pair of shoes with the stylishness of a new pair is the formula taught by Mrs. J. M. Team in a YWCA course on the covering of shoes.

It's all done with a third of a yard of material, a paring knife, glue, scissors and just a few stitches. The sole is loosened, then the material placed over the shoe, with a few stitches on the sewing machine taking care of the seam in the back. The material is clipped a fourth-inch from the edge and glued inside the shoe and poked under and glued beneath the loose sole.

Accent On Driver, Pedestrian Education

Auto Safety Problems Concern Other Nations

LONDON (AP) — A few countries are moving to legislate more safety into the motor car, but in most the accent is on educating the driver and pedestrian.

Grim statistics on highway fatalities are not exclusive to the United States. The automobile explosion in other nations has brought with it an accompanying rise in traffic accidents and growing concern with safety problems.

The U.S. Congress is considering a wide-ranging bill to establish mandatory safety features in new automobiles, and the government has already set standards, beginning with 1967 models, for car it will buy.

In other nations, an Associated Press survey shows, the automobile boom is a comparatively recent development and the stress has been more to driver and pedestrian education than on legislation.

In Japan, where streets already were crowded with pedestrians and bicyclists, the number of passenger cars quintupled during the five-year period from 1960 to 1965. And in a number of European countries, the number of vehicles almost doubled during the same period.

Even though the United States led the world in the total number of traffic fatalities last year, statistically it appears better off than some other nations.

The United States had some 91.3 million vehicles registered last year and about 49,000 highway deaths. West Germany, with only about one-tenth of the number of cars, had 15,710 fatalities.

Japan, with 2.2 million passenger cars in 1965, had a total of 12,475 fatalities. About one-fourth of those were pedestrians and another fourth were motorcyclists.

Britain, with 12.5 million vehicles registered, had an estimated 8,000 fatalities; Italy, with 10.6 million cars, had nearly 9,000 traffic deaths.

John Tye, controller of the British Safety Council, claims most accidents in Britain are due to lack of driving discipline.

"British drivers are probably the most courteous in the world," he said, "but apart from in Hong Kong I have never encountered such hazards as on British roads due chiefly to lack of lane discipline."

The British Parliament is studying a bill to make seat belts compulsory on new models.

The Victoria state government in Australia is considering requiring a dual braking system and a recessed dashboard.

In both West Germany and France, legislation has been enacted banning sharp, protruding objects from car bumpers, wheels or other parts in an effort to cut down injuries to pedestrias and cyclists.

Periodic auto inspections for older vehicles are mandatory in Britain and Japan.

Seat belts are not required in most nations. The belts appeared on the Italian market about four years ago but have been generally ignored, a traffic expert there said.

A spokesman for the German Automobile Association said his group opposes making seat belts mandatory because in some instances they have caused fatal accidents, even though, he added, there is no doubt they help reduce the number of fatal injuries.

A number of auto manufacturers in Britain, Germany and Japan, particularly those with an eye on the American market, have incorporated safety features on their own.

One safety development in Britain and Germany is the design of an auto chassis which gradually collapses under impact of a collision. These are on only a few models, however. Other safety improvements include padded steering wheels and crash-absorbing steering columns on some models.

Not all the efforts towards safe driving have been made on the governmental level.

The Italian Automobile Club organized a campaign in 1964 using hundreds of photographers to take pictures of traffic violations. The offending drivers, traced by license plates, received letters asking them to mend their ways.

Italy also has made extensive road improvements and requires road safety courses in elementary schools. Despite that, its safety experts say, Italian drivers have much to learn.

In Mexico, one reporter observed, drivers tend to forget the rules of courtesy when they get behind the wheel. "They seem to feel it is an insult to be passed and a crime to be the last away from an intersection," he said.

National Steel Earnings Up

PITTSBURGH — The National Steel Corp. has reported net income of $20,932,318, or $1.27 per share, for the quarter ended June 30.

While below National's all-time record second quarter in 1965, it represents a 26 per cent increase in profit over the first quarter of 1966, according to President George A. Stinson, chief executive officer of the nation's fourth-largest steel producer.

"During the second quarter of 1966," Stinson said, "National Steel produced at record levels. The fact that neither shipments nor earnings matched the performance of the second quarter of 1965 reflects the marked difference between the two periods. Shipments then were at an all-time quarterly record level, to accommodate the inventory build-up by our customers as a hedge against the strike threat implicit in the protracted negotiations for a new labor contract which were in progress at that time.

"During the second quarter this year," Stinson continued, "shipments, although lower, were at a good level. This continuing demand, plus the steel requirements to replenish our own in-plant steel inventories, generated our all-time quarterly production record."

Higher employment costs, as well as lower shipments, affected the 1966 second quarter earnings.

Second quarter 1966 earnings of $20,032,318, or $1.27 per share, compare with earnings of $24,413,726 or $1.55 per share during the second 1965 quarter. For the first half of 1966, net income totaled $35,970,602, or $2.28 per share. Comparable first - half 1965 earnings were $47,166,811, or $3 per share.

Second quarter 1966 sales were $284,392,753, exceeded only by 1965's record second-quarter sales of $299,336,870. Comparably, first-half 1966 sales of $545,314,983 were exceeded only by record first-half 1965 sales of $592,880,322.

Phone Transaction OK'd In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission Tuesday authorized United Utilities, Inc., of Kansas City to take over Peoples Telephone Corp., Butler through a stock transaction.

In becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of United, the company will be known as Peoples-United Telephone Co.

The PUC said rates and service would remain unchanged for the utility's 28,000 subscribers in parts of Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Clarion, Lawrence, Mercer and Venango counties.

Sales, Earnings Spurt At Ferro

CLEVELAND — Six months sales and earnings were at record levels at the Ferro Corp., officials have announced.

Sales ending June 30 of $56,253,000 were up 14.9 per cent over the $48,945,000 registered in 1965. Net consolidated earnings climbed to $2,818,000, or 32.9 per cent over 1965 six months earnings of $2,121,000. Earnings per share were $1.61 on 1,751,122 shares compared with $1.22 on 1,742,223 reported in 1965.

Sales and earnings for the second quarter were highest in any quarter in the company's 47-year history. Sales in this period of $29,281,000 were accompanied by earnings of $1,474,000 for 15 per cent and 20 per cent increases, respectively, over the same period in 1965.

All product divisions contributed to the record gains, according to H .T. Marks, Ferro president. Greatest gains were registered in sales to the plastic industry, which represented 47 per cent of domestic sales and showed a 35 per cent increase over the comparable 1965 period.

The Board of Directors recently authorized a quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share payable Sept. 10 to shareholders of record Aug. 19.

Urges Legislature Approval

W. Va. Board Proposes State Kindergarten Setup

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A state - supported kindergarten system, estimated to cost $5 million in its first year, has been recommended by the State Board of Education for passage by the legislature next year.

The board voted at the close of its two-day meeting Tuesday to request the 1967 legislature for the $5 million to get the kindergarten program started.

State School Supt. Rex Smith told the board that about 24,000 West Virginia children would be eligible to attend the kindergarten classes in the fall of 1967.

The board at first considered having counties put up matching funds to operate the county systems. But this plan was abandoned for the time being Tuesday, because it was felt the school districts already are hard pressed.

The board said, however, that counties would have to provide their own classroom space and equipment and teaching staff.

In another action Tuesday, former state tax commissioner Joseph S. Soto, now vice president of business affairs for Marshall University, was named interim executive secretary of the board.

Soto will take over the job vacated by the retirement of Secretary Herbert Baer after Aug. 31. But Soto has said he would work in the double capacity as board secretary and Marshall business affairs vice president only until April 30. He said he would not want to take more time away from his Marshall position.

The board also named Tuesday Thorold S. Funk of Clarksburg as the new state director of vocational rehabilitation. He succeeds F. Ray Power, who recently retired.

The board also authorized West Virginia State College to proceed with preliminary plans for more dormitory space for 512 students and apartment units for faculty members.

The project would be the school's first student housing in nearly 30 years.

The board also declined to take action on the appeal of Fairmont State College instructor Dr. Joel Meltzer for reinstatement.

Meltzer was fired by Fairmont President E. K. Feaster over alleged insubordination in connection with dialogue left in a study plan which Meltzer was conducting.

The board's "no-action" was seen as a silent refusal to order that Meltzer be re-hired.

Three Beaver Towns To Get Housing Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rochester, New Brighton and Freedom, all in Beaver County, Pa., will receive federal loans totaling more than $3 million for low-rent housing, it has been announced.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D—Pa., said Tuesday that Rochester would receive $1,200,000 for 75 homes (45 for the elderly), New Brighton $1,100,000 for 70 homes (all for the elderly) and Freedom $971,691 for 60 homes (30 for the elderly).

The loans are made by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Sen. Clark also announced reservation of a $356,475 grant by HUD for a water improvement project in Lebanon.

A $263,000 contract for modernization of the U.S. Post Office and Court House in Pittsburgh was awarded to the Tempest Construction Co., Pittsburgh, by the General Services Administration.

Gulf Reports Record First-Half Earnings

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gulf Oil Corp. announced Tuesday record earnings for the first half of the year.

In other action, the board of directors approved the purchase of a portion of Cities Service Co.'s production and marketing facilities in the Midwest.

The half—year earnings amounted to $252,069,000 or $2.43 per share, compared to $210,041,000 or $2.03 for the first half of 1965.

The firm's quarterly cash dividend was raised five cents to 55 cents.

Gulf said it will pay $50 million for the Citgo facilities.

Contractor Injured In Fall, City Boy Hurt On Pile Of Dirt

A New Cumberland man hurt in a fall while working at a Dresden Ave. home and a city boy injured in a fall on a large pile of dirt along 2nd St. were admitted Tuesday to City Hospital, where seven other area residents were treated yesterday and released.

Keith Mack, son of Carl Mack of 545 Williams Ave., received a puncture wound of the left foot on a nail.

James Sprouse of 1106 White St., Wellsville, suffered a laceration of the wrist on a piece of glass while cleaning a cellar.

Driver Of Death Car At Fair Discharged

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The race driver whose car crashed a fence at the Putnam County Fair in Ottawa Monday night, killing two persons, has been dicharged from St. Rita's Hospital. Meanwhile three spectators severely injured in the accident were improving or holding their own today.

Jan Heely of Battle Creek, Mich., was released. Fidencio Gomez Jr., 19, was still listed in critical condition; Albina Vasquez, 17, in poor but improved condition, and Gregory Thompson, 17, Lima in guarded condition.

After washing cotton handkerchiefs place them perfectly straight against the clean surface of a mirror or window pane. They will dry perfectly straight and are then ready for use or to fold and put away.

McNamara Makes Statement

Soviet Threat In Europe Same, NATO Believes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says NATO defense ministers believe the Soviet threat in Europe has not diminished.

McNamara made the statement to newsmen after returning from a Paris meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministers. He gave no indication of an imminent reduction of U.S. military forces in West Germany.

The defense chief mentioned the Berlin crisis of 1961 and the Cuban missile crisis of 1962 as illustrative of Soviet actions to probe possible weaknesses among Western nations. He said NATO members all recognize the necessity of strong defense postures in face of the Soviet threat.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is nearing a decision on whether to resume sales to Pakistan of such military equipment as spare parts for tanks and planes, authoritative sources report.

The sources said while a sharp policy division exists within the government on the move, an easing of the sales ban appears in prospect.

The United States clamped an arms embargo on both Pakistan and India 11 months ago when fighting broke out in Kashmir.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Housing subcommittee has given tentative approval to a $900-million, two-year demonstration cities program designed to encourage about 60 cities to experiment with crash assaults on slums.

This is far below President Johnson's request for a $2.3-billion, five-year program. Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., proposed cutting the program. He cited mounting war costs and said "our domestic programs must be continued but at far less expense."

The subcommittee continues work on the bill and a spokesman said it may be altered before it is reported out.

Runoff Primary Looms Aug. 9

Segregationist Figure Leads In Arkansas Vote

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Segregationist spokesman Jim Johnson, a critic of Gov. Orval Faubus and President Johnson, held a steady lead over six opponents today as returns trickled in from the Arkansas Democratic gubernatorial primary.

If a trend established Tuesday night holds, Johnson will meet Frank Holt, tagged by all his opponents as a Faubus administration candidate, in a runoff primary Aug. 9.

The runoff winner will not be assured of election as he once was in this traditionally Democratic state. Waiting for him in the general election will be Winthrop Rockefeller, who easily defeated his Republican primary opponent Tuesday.

Johnson attacked President Johnson and the "Great Society" at every stop. He said his vote indicated that the people of Arkansas still believe in state's rights, constitutional government and the right of private property.

Race was not really an issue in the campaign because other candidates did not discuss it. But Johnson reminded his audiences of his segregationist background and he ran strongest in south and east Arkansas where racial feeling has always been highest.

Holt and Johnson, colleagues on the Arkansas Supreme Court before they filed for governor in April, ran well ahead of the Democratic field which listed former Reps. Brooks Hays and Dale Alford; Sam Boyce, a prosecutor; Raymond Rebsamen, a businessman, and Kenneth Sulcer, a state legislator.

The Democratic vote, with 2,052 of 2,693 precincts reported was: Johnson 74,336, Holt 61,767, Hays 40,943, Alford 35,329 Boyce 33,126, Rebsamen 20,852, and Sulcer 11,894.

Rockefeller defeated Gus McMillan of Sheridan who got only a token vote. Rockefeller said McMillan, who ran for governor as a Democrat in 1954, was put into the race by Democrats for harassment.

The Republican vote in 341 of 16,781, McMillan 1,015.

Sen. John L. McClellan and Reps. E.C. Gathings of the 1st District, Wilbur Mills of the 2nd District and J.W. Trimble of the 3rd District won renomination without difficulty.

Two young attorneys — David Pryor of Camden and Richard Arnold of Texarkana — qualified in the 4th District for a runoff for the seat vacated last February by the resignation of Rep. Oren Harris.

McClellan defeated Foster Johnson of Little Rock, a book salesman with no political experience.

Faubus, ending his 12th year in office, did not endorse a candidate and pledged before the voting to support the nominee against Rockefeller.

Johnson was a state senator when he emerged as a spokesman for segregationists following the U.S. Supreme Court's desegregation decision of 1954. He ran unsuccessfully for governor on a segregationist platform in 1956.

Castro Sees Revolution In Latin States

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro asserted Tuesday night that the decade of 1970-80 will be a "decade of revolution throughout Latin America" and denounced lackadaisical pseudo-revolutionaries as the "best allies of imperialism."

In a 2½-hour speech commemorating the 13th anniversary of his 26th of July revolutionary movement, Castro called on true Latin-American revolutionaries to overthrow existing governments throughout the hemisphere.

Addressing hundreds of thousands of Cubans in Havana's Revolutionary Plaza, Castro noted that U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said the decade of the 1970s would be a period of hunger throughout the world.

"But he should better have said that it will be the decade of revolution because the peoples of Latin America will not allow themselves to die from hunger," Castro declared.

"The immense majority of Latin-American countries now have a better reason for carrying on a revolution than Cuba ever had. But if this is not done it is because of the lack of conviction of some so-called revolutionaries."

Castro sounded a familiar theme of the Communist bloc with an offer to send volunteer "combat units" to fight U.S. forces in Viet Nam. He claimed thousands of Cubans have already volunteered to fight in Viet Nam.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Toned Muscles Keep Face Youthful

The wrinkle - free promise from the dieter who practiced throat toning isometrics, while losing 20 pounds, has brought forth numerous requests for facial rejuvenators.

Ida Jean Kain

Readers ask: Can cheek muscles be given a rounded, firm appearance? Can lines on the upper lip be smoothed away? Can bracing tone be restored to the lower jaw, and a crepey throat firmed up? Why not? The face is composed of muscles, and toned muscles give a lift.

Sanford Bennett, the man who grew young at 72, suggested facial toners in his book entitled "Old Age — Its Cause and Prevention". The book is out of print, but the exercises are easy to follow.

The cheeks are supported by muscles attached to the cheek bone, just below the eyes. The cheek muscles are also attached to the muscle band of the mouth, and again to the wide band of muscle of the jawline.

AS THE YEARS fly by, if these muscles are not exercised, they lose tone and shrink. With the supporting muscles strengthened, the cheeks assume the rounded appearance of one's more youthful years. The exercises follow:

Bunch up the cheek muscles with an exaggerated smile, lifting corners of mouth. Place palms of hands on cheek bunches and rub gently upwards. Since this action could not encourage new wrinkles, you have nothing to lose by gently massaging contracted cheek muscles.

Lines along the upper lip may have a different cause. These can be due to a change in the vertical distance between nose and chin. Talk with your dentist. If you wear dentures, relining or adjustment may be needed.

The mouth is encircled by a wide muscular band, with an attachment along the jawline. The big grin which toned the throat muscles of our dieter, should be helpful in smoothing out lines on the upper lip.

Grin, side-wise, opening lips. Hold the grin and keep a stiff upper lip as you pull up strongly with jaw muscles.

Pull as hard as you can and hold the contraction to a slow count of six. Repeat three times, twice daily.

THIS EXERCISE can firm a crepey throat, for as you can feel, it brings into action the muscles right under the chin.

To tone the cushion of muscle that covers the chinline, open mouth slightly, set jaw hard. Then with palms of hands, rub firmly along jawline, from tip of chin to ear, each side. Easy does it.

Elegant head carriage keeps the throat muscles bracingly on the job. A pleasant countenance gives the face a lovely lift, too.

'Fog Broom' Studied For Use On Turnpike

TRENTON, N. J. — The New Jersey Highway Commission is studying the possibility of using a "fog broom" developed by farmers in northern Chile to solve the problem of fog along certain sections of the New Jersey Turnpike.

The fog broom developed by Chilean farmers is constructed of stationary vertical wood frames positioned at right angles and strung with heavy nylon threads through which the wind blows the mountain mists. The nylon attracts the moisture, and droplets of water form on the strings and run down pipes which lead to an irrigation system.

Highway Department engineers have adapted this idea to a rotating broom operated by a motor. Several of the brooms would be mounted on flat - bed trucks and would proceed in tandem to clear a path through the fog.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My mother taught me to buy the most solid heads of lettuce I could find.

She said it was a better buy, especially when paying for it by the head, rather than by weight.

However, I don't think it tastes as good as lettuce which is a little looser.

MARION HOLMES.

-:-

Dear Marion: Your mother might get more lettuce for her money but here is what the U.S. Department of Agriculture says:

"Remember that a good head of lettuce is just that.

"The head should be firm, but not too solid. Heavy hard lettuce often is lacking in the most desired color.

"The greener the lettuce, the better it will look, and the more vitamins it will have."

They also gave us the following information which I want to pass along to all of you:

"Remember, too, to store lettuce in the refrigerator away from fresh fruit. A gas given off in the ripening process of many fruits may cause the lettuce to spot."

However, I buy my heaviest and biggest head of lettuce when it's sold by "each head," and my greenest, firm, and not too solid ones when sold by the pound and I'm way ahead!

LOVE YA, HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for apartment dwellers who have to wrap and tie up their garbage before putting it down the trash chute:

Instead of buying string, cut up old nylon stockings, starting from the top and cutting in 1-inch strips to the toe.

Wind the strips into a ball and you will have strong ties when you need them.

Old slips and T-shirts also can be used.

M.J.

DEAR HELOISE: Use an old plastic cloth-backed tablecloth for a mattress pad when traveling with small children.

And have you ever scrubbed your baby bottle nipples inside out?

Amazing how much easier it is.

ADELLE BLAUKAMP.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I have been married for five years now and have spent so much time trying to get organized that we are in constant confusion.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When I fringe a large piece of material, I first hang it on the clothline and find that I can fringe it in nothing flat.

I just finished doing a large red and white table cloth this easy way.

LAZY.

DEAR HELOISE: I know women change purses ever so often and I have sometimes forgotten to put my keys in my purse when I change.

However, we seldom forget our billfolds. So I had an extra house key made, and put it in a corner of my billfold.

Since then it has come in handy several times when I forgot my keys.

DEVOTED FAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Try keeping a flashlight on the kitchen counter.

It helps locate things in the darker cupboards without moving the cans, pots, and pans around so much.

BARBARA BROOKS.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a practical use for an old fur coat which I lacked courage to toss away.

I cut it off at the underarm seam and stitched the lining to the skin where it was cut off.

It serves as a rug children love to use while watching TV. It can be used in the bedroom, car, or as a football game lap robe.

A short hair coat will make a nice toss pillow, using a sleeve for each side.

MRS. J. G. CLAYTON.

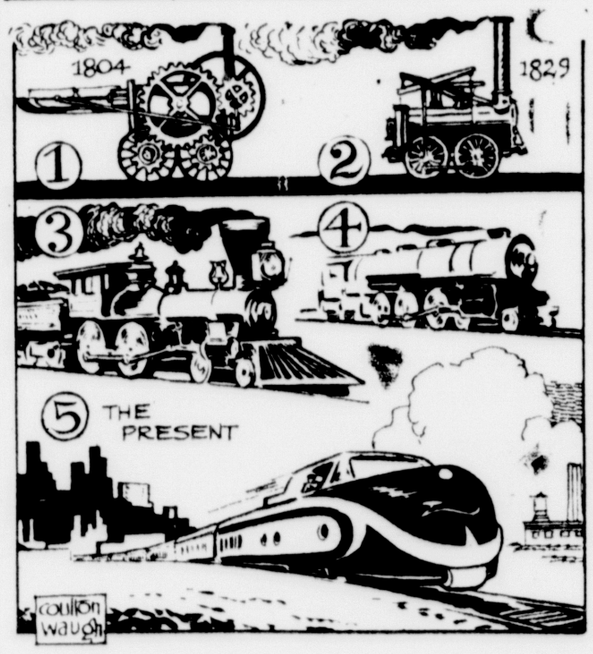
Junior Editors Quiz on LOCOMOTIVES



QUESTION: What is the history of the locomotive?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The first practical steam engine was patented in 1698. But it was nothing until 1804 that Englishman Richard Revithick successfully operated the "New Castle," which he had designed and which was the first self-propelled steam locomotive (1). In 1829, another Englishman George Stephenson, built the much more successful "Rocket". Also in 1829, the "Stourbridge Lion," (2) built in England, was shipped to and operated in America. The locomotive then developed rapidly. Pistons were placed on the sides, in front, with heavy connecting rods moving the large driving wheels. A good example of this arrangement was "The General" (3) of the Civil War period. Later, steam locomotives as in (4), exhibited the same principles but had more driving wheels; the whole shape was streamlined to lessen wind resistance. In the late 1800's electric locomotives began to appear, with power from outside. Nowadays, locomotives generating their own electric power, using diesel engines, are raplacing the other types (5).

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up "diesel" in an encyclopedia, so as to understand the principle on which such an engine works.

Executed By Experts

Lausche Says Race Riots Are Part Of Conspiracy

CHICAGO (AP)—U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, contends that recent riots in big cities "are part of a national conspiracy executed by experts."

Lausche, of Cleveland, called the disturbances the worst lawlessness in American history.

"The mode of operation, especially in the Cleveland riot, indicated design and organization," the Democrat told the Independent Grocers Alliance Wednesday.

"The technique adopted clearly showed that there were centrally managed tactics keeping the riot in progress while many innocent people became involved in it," he said.

Reached later in Washington, Lausche said he did not have the name of any organization involved in the riots.

But he said, in a statement, "the expertness with which the riots were carried out points to centralized design.

"In Cleveland on Tuesday, July 18, at a club known as the JFK, with a friend of the U.S. Government unknowingly present, discussions were had about how firemen and policemen will be sniped," he alleged.

"While the discussion was in progress, Cleveland policemen entered the room. Those in attendance dispersed. Obviously, plans were preliminarily being laid to design a program of sniping.

"The sniping was not spontaneous, it was planned," Lausche said.

"Where was the knowledge acquired to manufacture Molotov cocktails? Was it inborn or acquired from experts? The precision with which they were used and made shows expertness."

Mentioning in addition the rioting in Los Angeles, Rochester, New York City and Chicago, Lausche said that looting and other disorders are not spontaneous outbreaks spurred by incidents.

He said the lawlessness was generated and heated up, in part, "by those who are living in luxury by conducting so-called nonviolent crusades."

"Wrought-up emotions stir up abnormal reaction regardless of the intent of the perpetrators" the senator contended.

He mentioned no names in this city where Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who advocates nonviolence, is conducting a campaign to improve housing, unemployment and education for Negroes.

Lausche gave reasons for what he termed the growth of defiance of law and order. They included:

Civic leaders, including clergymen, holding that civil disobedience is justifiable if a person believes a law to be morally wrong.

U. S. Supreme Court decisions which "shackle the police."

Cries of "police brutality" which place policemen on the defensive.

Refusal of citizens to listen to warnings that "in practically every demonstration of civic disobedience, the tactics have been methodical and manifestly directed by experts."

Lack of punishment for advocates of draft dodging and for labor leaders who defy a court order—as, he said, they did in the New York transportation strike this year.

Lausche said there is a need for an aroused citizenry to demand that law and order be enforced.

Non-Greedy Thief

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — As Francis Woods was leaving a bowling alley where he is employed, he was approached by a couple of men. One of the pair asked him how much money he had with him. He replied that he had but $13. "Okay," said one of the pair, "We'll take $10." And they did.

Week Before Luci's Nuptials

Gov. Rhodes' Daughter's Wedding To Be Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A daughter of Ohio's chief executive will marry Saturday, exactly one week before a major wedding in the Nation's Capital.

Miss Saundra Rhodes, daughter of Gov. and Mrs. James A. Rhodes, will become the bride of Dr. John Jacob at 7:30 p.m. at Columbus' Overbrook Presbyterian Church.

Their wedding will precede that of President Johnson's daughter, Luci, to Patrick Nugent, in Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.

Nearly all Ohio officialdom will be on hand for Miss Rhodes' wedding but it will be a family affair. The bride's sister, Sharon, 16, will be maid of honor, and George Jacob, brother of the groom, will be best man.

Melissa (Missy) Moore, 2, black-haired and doll - faced granddaughter of the governor, will be a flower girl. The ceremony will be conducted by Dr. R. E. Dronsfield, Overbrook pastor and family minister who married the Rhodes' other daughter, Suzanne, to Richard Moore in the same church three years ago.

The wedding will be followed by a reception at the Governor's Mansion, after which the couple will leave for a week's honeymoon at The Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Dr. Jacob, son of Mrs. John George Jacob of Columbus, was graduated from the Ohio State School of Dentistry three years ago. He received his degree in orthodonics from Ohio State last March.

The bride now is a junior majoring in elementary education at Ohio State. She attended her first two years at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. She plans to continue her education this fall.

Miss Moore's gown and accessories were designed to go with a double rose pointe veil which the governor brought to her last year from family friends in Belgium.

The gown is described as a candlelight peau de soie with a low rounded neckline, natural waist, and bell-shaped skirt. She will carry a tumbling cascade of gardenias and sweet peas.

Her train will be full chapel length.

$792 Million Approved

Sen. Fulbright Votes No On Military Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright has driven in a new wedge to widen the foreign policy differences between himself and the administration.

Fitting deed to months of words of criticism, the Arkansas Democrat cast a vote of no confidence in a key administration foreign policy program.

After the Senate voted 55 to 37 to cut $100 million from the $892-million military assistance program, it passed the bill by an 82-7 margin Wednesday—but with Fulbright, chairman of the NATE Foreign Relations Committee, among the nay votes.

As committee chairman, Fulbright was what senators call "floor manager" for the administration's foreign aid program.

The floor manager is supposed to be both advocate and defender of his bill. But Tuesday Fulbright voted "with misgivings" for the economic assistance part of the program. After his "no" vote on military aid Wednesday he declared in a statement: "When economic assistance fails, the result is a breakdown or delay in some aspect of development. When military assistance goes wrong, the consequences are much more spectacular."

And, like other opponents of the measure, Fulbright cited suspicions that American military aid to Pakistan "actually caused the war" last year between India and Pakistan.

"If we had not provided the arms, Pakistan would not have been able to seek a military solution" of its Kashmir dispute with India, said Fulbright.

Most of the debate over the program centered on efforts to cut it from as much as $250 million down to $100 million, which the Senate finally accepted.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., complained that "this idea that if we chop out $250 million they might spend the money more wisely is a sad commentary on what makes America click."

Daily Losses In Millions

Airline Strike's Making Deep Cut Into Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — The 21-day-old airline strike is making a deepening cut into the economy, bringing daily losses in the millions to tourism, industry and many small businesses.

An Associated Press survey found that hotels, food and fuel suppliers, flower dealers and the bootblacks, sky-caps, and other service personnel who depend on planes for their livelihood have been severely hurt.

A spokesman for New York City's Convention and Visitors Bureau estimated its tourist industry losses were running at $750,000 a day while the president of Miami's Chamber of Commerce said the strike toll there is reaching "catastrophic proportions."

Suppliers of food and fuel to the five struck lines were reported losing $1 million a day and a spokesman for the lines — Eastern, Trans World, United, Northwest and National — said their total daily revenue loss was $7 million.

The cost of the walkout so far to striking machinist union workers and laid off employes has been set at $30 million. Union members are receiving $25 weekly benefit checks and furloughed workers can collect unemployment insurance.

Talks toward ending the strike were to resume in Washington today while a Senate committee studied proposed legislation to halt the walkout.

With the big losers, are many small- business men. In Minneapolis an importer of Hawaiian orchids was forced to close down. A Wilmington, Del., supplier of mice to laboratories doubled his normal operating costs to charter a World War II bomber to ship a load of pregnant mice.

At Boston's Logan Airport, newsstands and shoe-shine parlors have closed. In California, airport barbers, travel agents and florists have been so hard hit that the State Utility Commission has ordered a study of conditions.

In Miami, however, the whole community was reported feeling the effects of an estimated $40-million loss.

Winston Wynne, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "As the base of our economy is eaten away, the whole community suffers. The shock will be felt for many months to come."

Don Fazackerly, president of San Francisco's Downtown Association, said a survey he conducted showed a daily loss of about $1 million.

In Los Angeles, where the Chamber of Commerce estimated the loss per day at $617,000, flower growers were said to be hardest hit, with half their normal market falling away.

The owner of a florist shop in Pittsburgh, Pa., said flowers that usually arrived from the West Coast in 19 hours now were getting to him in five days.

Ike's Having Routine Tests At Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been in Walter Reed Army Hospital since Monday for what an aide called "routine tests."

The aide, Brig. Gen. Robert L. Schulz, said that he had no information as to the nature or purpose of the tests, or as to how much longer Eisenhower would be hospitalized.

Eisenhower, 75, suffered a heart attack in 1955 while President, and another last year in Augusta, Ga. He also underwent emergency surgery for ileitis in 1956, and he had a minor stroke in 1957. He spent three weeks at Walter Reed Hospital last May for treatment of an arthritic condition.

Schulz noted that Eisenhower, a five-star general, has checked in at Walter Reed from time to time over the years for a physical checkup. These hospital stays sometimes have been announced, and sometimes they have not been.

Schulz said Eisenhower was driven to the hospital in a private car — not an ambulance — from his office at Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa. The Eisenhowers have a home on the outskirts of Gettysburg.

Word that Eisenhower was again in the hospital came to light after an anonymous telephone caller told Washington radio station WWDC she had seen him there.

Ashtabula Due First Underground CATV

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Ashtabula will have the nation's first underground community television (CATV) system, reports a spokesman for Ashtabula Cable TV Inc.

Ground was broken by the firm Wednesday for the first strip of 85 miles of underground cable laid by modern machinery. The process requires no digging. The machine slices the cable into the ground on a narrow ditch and then covers it.

Robinson Plans To Reopen Controversial JFK House

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lewis G. Robinson says he plans to reopen his controversial JFK House, which has come under attack from police and political leaders beecause of alleged involvement of JFK youths in rioting in Cleveland's Negro ghetto.

Rioting that started in the Hough area on Cleveland's East Side the night of July 18 was followed by sniping and firebombing which continues several nights in a row. In the disorders, four Negroes lost their lives and several buildings were destroyed by flames.

An estimate that claims arising from the riots will total $500,000 was made Wednesday by Joseph C. Boggins, executive vice president of the Insurance Board of Cleveland.

Councilman Edward F. Katalinas, representing the ward in which the JFK House is located, told newsmen the center founded by Robinson was "a cancer on the body of the community."

Katalinas testified Wednesday before a grand jury investigating the riots, as did Boggins.

Police Chief Richard Wagner, who was slated to testify today along with Mayor Ralph S. Locher, told newsmen last Friday that Negro youths responsible for firebombing in the Hough area were linked to the JFK House, which was founded by the 37-year-old Robinson in 1964.

Robinson said at that time there was nothing to the chief's allegations.

The police sanitation unit shut the JFK House down Monday on grounds the store-front center failed to meet the city code. Robinson called the police action harassment and said he plans to "hold a party at the house Saturday night.

"The kids and I will spend the day getting it cleaned up," he said, adding that he will ask the city to inspect it again and approve it for reopening.

While the grand jury probe continues, the Ohio National Guard force on duty in the riot area is being further reduced.

A contingent of 750 guardsmen leaves today after nine days of riot duty. Some 500 guard members left Tuesday and still on duty here will be about 750 members.

The East Side has been calm all this week under the surveillance of police and guard patrols.

Dedication Ceremonies Set For Building At Scout Camp

LISBON — 40-by-60-foot utility building will be dedicated Sunday evening at Camp Twin Spruce, summer campground of Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The National Rubber Machinery Corp. donated funds for the building and Scouting volunteers constructed it this summer of rough cut oak.

The building, sixth and largest at the Leesville Lake camp, will be stained brown like the others. It is in use for handicrafts, trading post or Scout store and storage.

Scouts use the large handicraft section for assemblies, games and movies.

Camp Director James Wilhide of Canfield will preside for the dedication ceremony following dinner with the campers.

Len Turk of Akron, president of the NRM company, is to make the presentation and John Thompson of East Liverpool, president of the council, will accept the building.

A group of area industrialists and members of the council's executive board have been invited.

Approximately 65 boys are due Sunday afternoon at Twin Spruce for the sixth and final week of camping. Registered are Scouts from Salem Troop 5, East Liverpool Troops 34, 36 and 66, Wellsville Troop 22 and a provisional troop of 15 Scouts who are attending without their own troops or adult leader. The camp will provide a leader.

Man, 71, Bound Over On Shooting Charge

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Ben Klinismit, 71, was bound over to the grand jury Wednesday on a charge of shooting with intent to wound 10-year-old Herbert Hayes. Klinismit waived preliminary examination when arraigned before Municipal Judge R. L. Marrs.

The charge, police said, was filed last Saturday after Klinismit allegedly fired a shotgun into a group of three youths, including Hayes, when he found them in the vicinity of a garage of his residence.

Pitt Measure Awaits Scranton's OK Today

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill to make the University of Pittsburgh a state - related institution is awaiting Gov. Scranton's signature today.

The measure was given final legislative approval by the House Wednesday when it concurred, 199 - 0 in minor Senate amendments.

It would make the university eligible for increased state aid, including appropriations for reduced tuition rates for Pennsylvania resident students.

The bill also would make the governor and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction members of the university's 36-member board of trustees. Twelve of the trustees would be designated Commonwealth trustees, with four to be appointed by the governor, four by the President Pro Tem of the Senate and four by the Speaker of the House.

A $19.8 million appropriation bill to finance Pitt operations for the current fiscal year is being held by the Senate Appropriation Committee. It was expected to be released once the House and Senate reach a compromise on the general appropriation bill.

Pitt would become the third state - related university, joining Pennsylvania State and Temple universities.

The House also passed and sent to the governor three appropriation bills for the Treasury Department totaling $4.1 million. The major appropriations were $2.2 million for the department's sinking fund for public building construction, and $1 million for the Project 70 land acquisition sinking fund.

A fourth appropriation bill was passed and sent to the governor. It would provide $7,575 to the Department of Labor and Industry's Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation for the initial cost of establishing a hospital personnel training center for the handicapped.

In other action, the House adopted by voice vote three resolutions directing Joint State Government Commission investigations of various phases of the Department of Revenue's Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Areas to be investigated include the status of physical examinations for drivers; installation of safety belts on all motor vehicles; and the bureau's processing procedures for motor vehicle registrations and operators' licenses.

Boy, 12, Doing Math Research

By PHIL BROWN

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mike Grost is one 12-year-old with no summer vacation problem of, "Hey, Mom, what is there to do?" The National Science Foundation grants him $30 a week to do mathematical research.

It is a program to encourage college students, and that is what Mike is — almost an all-A student at that.

Mike who just completed his sophomore year at Michigan State University's Honors College, plugged quietly along among 35,000 other students at the East Lansing campus, studying calculus, physics, religion, French and computer science.

He received only two grades of B — one in French and one in religion — to go with an otherwise straight-A record.

Faculty advisers, who first watched to see if the decision to admit Mike to college at age 10 was correct, no longer show such concern.

They are careful not to influence him toward any one career field.

Mike agreed and moved into the perfect spot for a crew-cut 100-pounder — coxswain for an intramural racing shell.

Mike was the youngest known freshman in the United States since 1886. He could receive a master's degree before he is old enough to drive, and a doctorate at an age when many students are just entering college.

Mike's father, William Grost of Lansing, says that it is unimportant whether Mike receives his bachelor's degree at age 14. He and his wife, Audrey, would rather see him proceed slowly, taking extra courses and exploring new fields.

As a junior, Mike has to pick a major field and has decided on physical science.

He has been working with Dr. Fritz Herzog, a mathematics professor, to catch up on some steps he missed by not taking high school math. He has taken a series of advanced calculus courses.

He also is working 20 hours a week on the National Science Foundation summer program, designed to teach research methods to college undergraduates.

"I'm enjoying it," said Mike. "It's not at all like work."

The short summer work week was designed to give Mike time for recreation with his family and friends his age.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Giggling Boy Presents Difficulty

When two girls, 9 to 12 or so are together long and often, they sometimes giggle with no apparent reason to others present, but annoying to them. Sometimes boys giggle, too. For example, a mother writes from New Jersey: "I would like to have information on a child that giggles constantly. Especially when he is in other children's company. For instance, if he gets invited somewhere to lunch he giggles to the extent where he gets the older people upset and does not get invited back.

Dr. Garry Myers

"Or if someone asks him something in general about himself he answers vaguely and then giggles. He is the only child at home and just with me. No father, grandparents or any relatives.

—:—

"I TRY very hard to work out all his little problems and have his friends in frequently. I also let him be with them whenever he can. He does well academically in school, but is very lonely for more companionship.

"Am I trying too hard and hampering the child because I, too, feel this loneliness? I would like to have a little more information as to how to give a child more experiences to become more emotionally mature."

My reply in part:

You don't indicate the age of the boy who giggles. I must confess that he seems to be an unusual case. I advise that you ask your physician to refer you to a psychiatrist who might be able to help you.

I think the only unusual thing about this child is that the giggling seems so frequent and intense. Lots of kids giggle at times — girls probably more than boys, especially girls 8 to 12 or so. I can recall when I must have been 13 or 14 that, while with a playmate in his home, I got a spell of giggling and found it hard to stop. I think I giggled nearly all the time I was there, including dinnertime.

I THINK there are some things you could safely do with this boy. You could get him more with other boys his age where he can play in the rough-and-tumble and learn to be more like them. You could try to calm him down — he probably has fears of discomfort and inferiority when he giggles among strangers — so you can help him to be more comfortable. This should get some good results.

There might be times, indeed, when you would send him away to be alone when he giggles excessively. He might thereby learn to control himself better.

It is wonderful that he does well at books. Do build on this strong point.

My bulletins "Your Child and His Playmates," "The Nervous Child," and "Fears in Children" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Appeal Rejected In Beaver Court

BEAVER — A three - judge panel Wednesday affirmed an earlier rejection of a request for an injunction against the district attorney's office in enforcing the Sunday sales law.

Foodland Market of Hopewell Township had sought the injunction in an attempt to conduct business on Sunday, but Judge Ralph Scalera on May 4 denied the petition. The market subsequently appealed the ruling to a three - member panel—Judge Scalera, Judge James Rowley and Judge John Sawyer.

John Conte, counsel for the market, indicated he plans to appeal to a higher court.

Six Arrested, Dope Seized In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Allegheny County detectives and state narcotics agents made several raids early today, arresting six persons and seizing quantities of marijuana.

Dist. Atty. Robert W. Duggan said the raids capped two months of surveillance work.

The raiders hit places in Homestead, Bridgeville and the Hill District and North Side sections of Pittsburgh.

Canon William Archibald Spooner of Oxford reportedly greeted someone with, "I remember your name perfectly, but I just can't think of your face."

Some Power Hit As Tree Topples

An electric line on E. 3rd St. was downed by a falling tree at 3:09 a. m. today, disrupting service to a few homes in the vicinity.

Police said the tree fell from the property of Mrs. Wilma Rager of 215 E. 3rd St., about 70 feet west of Union St. A transformer fuse was blown and the service lines from the transformer were broken. City firemen were called to stand by at the site.

The Ohio Power Co. said repairs were completed shortly after the interruption.

Patrolman R. J. Brookes said the tree fell across the sidewalk and came to rest on a steel pipe railing bordering the sidewalk. The top of the tree also went over the top of an auto bearing West Virginia license plates, but the car was not damaged, police said.

Road Work To Begin Monday At Guilford

LISBON — The Ohio Valley Paving Co. of St. Clairsville will begin work Monday on the resurfacing of 2.46 miles of road at Guilford Lake State Park, State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon has announced.

He said money for the $14,425 project comes from an $85,000 appropriation he helped obtain for improvements at the lake.

Wetzel said refacing of the earth dam will begin when the lake level is lowered this fall.

He also reported the resurfacing of Route 164 from Gavers to the Route 39 junction north of Salineville, a distance of 5.3 miles. Berm work is being completed this week. Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia, has the $53,266 contract.

Ohio's Jaycees Plan Voter Signup Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A statewide "100 per cent registration drive" will be launched Aug. 1 by the 228 chapters of the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce. The drive will be concentrated in those Ohio areas requiring voter registration for the Nov. 8 general election.

The Haycee announcement came simultaneously with one by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown who conferred with Jaycee officials and praised their program. Brown, too, is initiating his 1966 statewide non-partisan "Register, Inform Yourself and Vote" campaign which he coordinated in Ohio for many years.

Agricultural Committees Will Be Named In August

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers will vote by mail early in August for community committees to assist the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

J. Glenn Bates of Leetonia, county ASC chairman, said ballots will be mailed Friday to all known eligible voters. Marked ballots are to be returned to the ASC office, 41 N. Park Ave., Lisbon, before Aug. 8, Bates said. They will be tabulated publicly Wednesday, Aug. 10, in the county office by the county committee.

EACH OF 11 communities will elect a committee made up of three regular members and two alternates. The chairman, vice chairman and third regular members are determined by the number of votes.

They become delegates to the county ASC convention later in the summer when vacancies on the county committee will be filled. They also will decide which of the regular county committeemen will serve as chairman and vice chairman for the coming year.

Bates said community committees assist the county committee in administering price support, acreage diversion, agricultural conservation and other farm action programs. They are particularly responsible for keeping their neighbors informed about the programs, Bates pointed out.

The county committee supervises the ASC county office and is responsible for the administration of the various programs.

Eligible voters who do not receive a ballot may obtain one at the county office. Generally, a farm owner, tenant or sharecropper is eligible to vote if he is eligible to take part in one or more of the ASC programs.

THERE ARE 70 nominees for the 11 committees. They follow by communities:

Butler — Homer L. Althouse, Earl R. Bardo, Jay E. Denny, Carl E. Herron, J. Harold McCullough, Don L. Sanor, Lloyd K. Walton.

Center and Hanover — Carl M. Crosser, Ronald C. Hofmeister, John T. Jarman, Ernst Moser, Steve Sosenko, Harry A. Speidel, Paul Zehentbauer.

Community College's Board Will Distribute Master Plan

LISBON — The Columbiana County Community College Board of Trustees is going to send copies of the 100-page master plan to civic organizations in the county.

Chairman Don R. Gosney of Columbiana appointed Lowell Myers, superintendent of Wellsville schools, project chairman Wednesday night during a meeting at the Farmers National Bank building here.

Paul Brittain of East Palestine was appointed to raise money to have the plan copied and distributed. It includes an educational needs survey of the county.

Gosney said this is the plan which Dr. John Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, last spring described as "good and workable".

Trustees are in agreement, Gosney said, about reapplying to the regents for a charter. The state board last May granted Mahoning County a community college charter and said Columbiana County should be served by the Mahoning institution.

Gosney said he understands the Mahoning school will charge double tuition for students from adjoining counties. He said he considers this unreasonable in view of the Board of Regents suggestion. "We still feel we are entitled to a community college in Columbiana County," Gosney added.

Trustees re-elected Gosney chairman, Myers vice chairman and Clyde Harrold of Columbiana secretary - treasurer. The board thanked Supt. Oliver H. Payne of Lisbon schools for his service as charter chairman and member. His resignation is effective Aug. 1. County commissioners will fill the vacancy by appointment.

Payne is leaving the Lisbon school system.

Home And Truck Thefts Reported To Police Here

Ham radio transmitting and receiving equipment valued at $130 was stolen from a city man's apartment and tools and testing equipment valued at $345 were taken from a truck parked in the downtown area, police reported today.

Harold Watson of Apartment 3-A, Thompson Pl., reported Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. that the radio equipment was taken from his home sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Watson said he left home Tuesday about 4 p. m., securing all the windows and doors, but the lock on the living room window was broken and would not fasten.

When he returned Wednesday he found the front window partially open and the equipment missing. It included an Eico ham radio transmitter valued at $75, an automatic key valued at $20 and a Hallicrafter receiver valued at $35.

The letter said in part:

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've read some pretty stupid advice in your column but telling that 70-year-old grandftather to wait until 1967 to take his 18-year-old granddaughter on a trip to Europe just because he couldn't afford separate rooms this year was the dumbest thing yet.

To begin with, the grandfather might not be here in 1967 and that girl could miss a chance of a lifetime just because you didn't think it was proper. If a girl can't trust her own grandfather, for heaven's sake, who can she trust?

I'll bet Grandpa has changed that girl's diapers and given her a bath dozens of times. Your advice was dumb and I hope it was ignored.—JUDI.

Dear Judi: Gramps may well have changed the girl's diapers and given her baths—but not lately, dearie. Little girls do grow up to be big girls.

Apparently you were so ignited by my advice that you didn't bother to read Gramps' letter. He described himself as "full of pep and a real swinger." This is not to suggest that I think gramps is a dirty old man, but I did get the impression that he is likely to live at least another year—which is the length of time he said it would take to save for separate rooms.

Dear Ann: You do a good job for a nonlawyer. I liked your advice to the father who wrote about his avaricious children. They were trying to persuade him to stop spending his money so they would inherit a sizeable estate.

The next time you advise someone about estates, however, do them a favor and suggest that they leave the original of the will with an attorney and keep a copy.

Why? Father dies. No. 2 and 3 sons and their wives are the first to appear on the scene. They look in the desk for burial instructions — or out of sheer curiosity. They find Dad's will. The lion's share is left to No. One son. So they destroy the will. Result: In most states the sons get equal shares.

This sort of thing happens every day. It cannot occur if the original of the will is reposing safely in the attorney's vault. Pass the world, will you please?—ATTORNEY W.J.M.

Dear W.J.M.: It's nice lawyers like you who help a nonlawyer like me alert millions of readers to some important facts of life. We are all in your debt.

Dear Ann: I'm 43 now and ever since Mike and I married I've helped him in business.

When he sold cookware I washed dishes while he gave the health talk. When he went to work for a trucking company and his helper didn't show up I'd go along and help him unload the furniture. Now we own a small cafe and I'm the cashier, bookkeeper and general manager.

Last month Mike hired a go-go girl as a waitress. He said she'd be a drawing card. We don't need a drawing card. We need someone who will work—and she won't.

I don't want Mike to think I am jealous. He's not a skirt-chaser and I don't worry about such things. But what should I do?—BOOTS.

Dear Boots: Keep your eye peeled for a working replacement for Miss Drawing Card. When you have one, hand the doll her walking papers and let her go-go.

Confidentially

To In the Dumps: Well—get out of 'em. So whom do you expect to meet there? Nothing repels people like a self-pittying female. Get off your "qualifications" and accept those invitations.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped- self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I put a piece of your nylon net in the bottom (and up the sides) of my dish drainer so that the small items won't fall through onto the drainboard or on the floor.

CLARE.

DEAR HELOISE: The other day, a friend of mine was hospitalized and I was caught short of money to send her a gift.

However, I grow some beautiful flowers, so I picked a small bouquet for her. When I started to make an arrangement, I couldn't find anything to hold the flowers in the shallow vase I had.

I improvised.

I took an empty mayonnaise jar, and with nail and hammer made holes in the lid, large enough for the stems of the flowers.

Then I arranged the flowers in a beautiful display by sticking the stems through the holes on the jar lid.

The flowers stayed in place perfectly.

I wrapped the flowers loosely with plastic wrap, covered the jar with foil and tied it with a ribbon. Then I sent it merrily on its way to the hospital — by my husband on his way to work.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: When emptying ashtrays after I entertain guests who smoke, I do not empty the trays into a wastebasket (which is a fire hazard), but into a piece of aluminum foil shaped into a pie pan-like container, then wad it up put it in the sink for awhile to make sure the cigarettes are out before putting it in the trash.

MRS. HERB GOODMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: When making mashed potatoes, prepare enough to have some left over for potato cakes for another meal.

Pack the leftover mashed spuds in straight up-and-down jars and when ready to use them they will slide out of the jar easily . . . ready to be sliced to the desired thickness and cooked.

To preapare the potato cakes I grease a cookie sheet lightly, place the cakes on it, pour melted butter on top of each, and place under the broiler to brown.

Do not turn cakes over. They will be light and fluffy.

MRS. J.P.L.

DEAR HELOISE: We all have junk drawers in the kitchen.

I solved mine by getting cigar boxes and sorting the small things that get lost in the bottom of the drawer.

I put a label on the lid of the box and now have all the things I need at my fingertips . . . in a neat drawer.

MRS. B.H.L.

DEAR HELOISE: I never did like pinch-pleated drapes, as those pins were such a nuisance.

I bought wide facing and stitched it to the back of the drapes and put them on my curtain rod!

MRS. SWEET.

DEAR HELOISE: A set of the snap rings on a metal staff, torn or cut from an old loose leaf notebook, make a king-size ring set for all your keys.

Nationals Defeat Americans, 2-0, In Backyard Bout For District Title

Will Advance To Regional Play Monday

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

In a backyard battle which found two East Liverpool teams battling for the District 4 Little League championship, the Nationals edged the American Division All - Stars 2-0 before a large crowd at Thompson Park Wednesday.

The Nationals were limited to only one hit by the Americans Dave Kyle but combined that hit with five walks and a three base error to gain the edge. The Nationals were outhit in the title game 8-1 but were able to hold their city rivals scoreless.

IT MARKED the second time the two city teams had met in a District 4 championship game. The first such meeting in 1960 was won by the American All - Stars.

The victory for manager John Fredericks team sends the Nationals into Regional tournament competition Monday at 6 p. m. at Hoover Field in Canton. The East Liverpool entry will meet the winner of Section 3 from the Akron area.

Wildness in the first inning put Kyle behind the eight ball when he gave up three walks and a hit and walked home the first run.

WITH ONE out in the opening frame, Andy Talbott drew the first of three walks and with runners on first and second Anthony Williams singled to load the bases. Kyle then walked Rick Aaron forcing in Talbott with the first run.

The Nationals came back again to score their second run in the third frame when a three base error by the Americans second baseman Dean Horger allowed Steve Frederick to reach third base. He later scored on a passed ball.

THE AMERICANS had two golden opportunities to score. The first time was in the first inning when they came up with a double, two singles and a walk but still couldn't cross home plate.

Bill Lockhart had led off with a double, went to third on a wild pitch but was called out at home when he attempted to score on another wild pitch. The Americans later loaded the bases but Aaron, the winning hurler, got Randy Harmon to ground out.

The other threat came in the final inning when Aaron proved to be strong when he had to be.

—:—

THE AMERICANS loaded the bases and with two outs the stage was set for Lockhart, one of the League's top hitters, who went down swinging to end the contest.

Aaron struck out four batters and walked two in going the route while Kyle had 10 strikeouts but gave up five free passes.

Kyle also led his team at the plate with a perfect three-for-three night while Jigs Carter had two hits in two trips. Williams got the only single off Kyle and that came in the first inning.

One outstanding defensive play was turned in by leftfielder Mike Banfield for the Nationals when he threw a perfect strike to nail Kyle at homeplate in the third inning.

Rain halted the game for almost 15 minutes in the third inning before play was resumed.

Valentine Has His Day

Baltimore Outslugs Indians, 7-1; F. Robinson Connects For No. 30

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

All the sweet talk in the world won't help. Until they are treated more gently, the California Angels won't show any affection for Washington's Valentine.

Dan Cupid used a bow and arrow but give Fred Valentine a bat and the Angels to hit against and the results are just as devastating.

Valentine walloped a grand-slam homer and a double Wednesday night, driving in five runs as Washington whipped California 7-5.

His slugging was hardly unexpected by the Angels. Like a persistent beau, he's been pestering them all season. Valentine, batting .278 over-all, is hitting at an amazing .521 pace against California.

The husky Senators outfielder has had 25 hits in 48 swings against the Angels this season. He has driven in 38 runs, 20 of them against California.

He tagged his 10th home run of the season in the third inning against rookie Clyde Wright following bunt singles by Ed Brinkman and Ken McMullen and a fielder's choice which loaded the bases.

In the sixth, his bloop double scored McMullen, who had singled.

Brinkman had four hits for the Senators and Barry Moore won his second major league game in as many starts.

Elsewhere, New York downed Minnesota 6-3, Chicago blanked Detroit 5-0, Baltimore defeated Cleveland 7-1 and Kansas City routed Boston 14-2.

Bobby Richardson and Joe Pepitone walloped two-run homers and Horace Clarke drove in two runs with a triple as the Yankees downed the Twins.

Richardson and Clarke keyed New York's four-run first inning against loser Jim Kaat, 14-7, after the Twins had grabbed a quick 2-0 lead. Fred Talbot went the distance for his ninth victory, retiring 15 in a row over one stretch.

John Buzhardt pitched his fourth shutout of the season and Tommie Agee drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double and a sacrifice fly for the White Sox.

Tom McCraw had three hits, driving in one run and scoring another for Chicago.

Frank Robinson hammered his 30th homer of the season, one of three circuits for the Orioles as Dave McNally won his 10th.

Robinson connected with two on in the seventh after rookie Larry Haney and veteran Luis Aparicio had homered earlier. Del Crandall hit his fourth for the Indians.

McNally, who pitched a six-hitter, striking out eight, contributed three straight singles to the Baltimore attack.

Allen Collects Pinch Home Run For Twins

Bernie Allen, who hasn't performed much in the past few weeks for the Minnesota Twins, smacked a pinch hit home run, his third of the season in the seventh inning Wednesday night at Yankee Stadium but it came in a losing cause as the Yanks topped the Twins 6-3.

Jones, Rolley Resign Grid, Cage Posts At Wellsville

Supt. Lowell B. Myers of Wellsville has announced the resignations of Ray (Pick) Rolley, assistant basketball coach and Richard Jones, who had served as an assistant football coach for the past four seasons.

Rolley has accepted a post as assistant to the varsity coach at Wooster High School where he will be serving under Carl Hamill, former Stanton coach, who was named head basketball mentor at Wooster earlier this month.

—:—

JONES HAS accepted an assistant's post in Vigo County, Indiana. The 36-year-old Jones had been coaching in the area for the past 13 years and had served as an assistant to Coach Ken Woods for the last four campaigns.

Prior to coming to Wellsville, Jones was head football and basketball coach at Salineville High School before the school consolidated under Southern Local.

A native of Follansbee, he served at Chester High School for three years. Jones is a 1948 graduate of Follansbee High School and was graduated from West Liberty College in 1952.

Rolley, 27, is a former Wellsville basketball star, and is one of the school's all - time scorers. He served one season under head coach Jack McDevitt.

A 1957 graduate of Wellsville High School, Rolley went on to star in basketball at Adrian College in Michigan.

Before returning to Wellsville for the 1965-66 season, Rolley coached one year in the Adrian school system and served at Westgate Junior High in East Liverpool for three years.

LA Streak At 6

.004 Separates 3 In NL Flag Race

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax has given his aching left arm an 11-inning acid test . . . and proved that the Los Angeles Dodgers can win without him.

The Dodgers are within a whisker of the National League lead after Koufax' longest pitching ordeal of the season but all the matchless southpaw has to show for it are two more strikeout standards and a no-decision.

And Philadelphia's Jim Bunning knows just how Sandy feels.

Bunning and Koufax gave way to relief pitchers after a brilliant 11-inning duel Wednesday night and the Dodgers immediately pushed over an unearned run in the 12th for a 2-1 victory that stretched their winning string to six and put them only one-half game behind first-place Pittsburgh in the NL race.

The Pirates climbed back into the top spot with a 5-3 victory over San Francisco, dropping the Giants into second place.

Koufax, whose arthritic pitching arm became painfully inflamed after his last start — causing speculation that he would miss a starting turn for the first time this year — overpowered the Phillies except for a second-inning homer by Rich Allen. He yielded only four hits and fanned 16, breaking one of his own records and moving up a peg on the all-time strikeout list.

His fourth strikeout was the 2,267th of his career, moving him past Lefty Grove into 10th position among the lifetime leaders. His 15th strikeout, in the ninth inning, was his 200th this season, marking the sixth straight year he has reached that plateau.

But, although Koufax also became the first hurler to pass the 200-inning mark — while lowering his major-league-leading earned run average to 1.65 — he failed to register victory No. 18. Instead, Phil Regan, who pitched the 12th, gained his eighth victory against a single setback.

Elsewhere, St. Louis and New York continued to roll, the Cardinals downing Atlanta 9-7 for their ninth victory in the last 10 games and the Mets edging Houston 3-2 for a 10-3 mark over their last 13. Cincinnati battered Chicago 11-2 in the other NL game.

Jim Davenport, San Francisco's usually slick-fielding third baseman, committed two errors in the ninth, helping the Pirates push over two runs and regain the league lead by two percentage points.

Bill Mazeroski singled one run in and Manny Mota delivered the other with a sacrifice fly after Davenport threw wildly on Donn Clendenon's bunt single and then bobbled Jim Pagliaroni's sacrifice bunt for a second miscue.

Clendenon's solo homer and a two-run shot by Gene Alley completed the Pittsburgh scoring.

The Cardinals climbed within 7½ games of the top behind right-hander Ray Washburn, who won his fifth straight with late-inning relief help and hit a double and his first major league homer, a two-run wallop in the five-run fourth.

Bob Friend combined with reliever Jack Hamilton for a six-hitter and gained his fourth victory in five decisions with New York as the Mets beat the Astros for the seventh time in a row to tie Atlanta for eighth place. Ken Boyer's two-run homer paced the Met attack.

Tommy Helms stroked three singles and a double, and Pete Rose and Vada Pinson added three hits apiece in the Reds' romp over Chicago. Rose and Leo Cardenas homered in a 16-hit attack that backed the seven-hit pitching of winner Jim O'Toole.

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

HEARD ABOUT "BOTTS' DOTS"? They are hard rubber-saucers about four inches in diameter and pegged upside down into the roadway to replace the white line. They can be painted white, or marked to show a white reflection to drivers going the right way, but to wrong way drivers they will show red. The inventor's name was Botts.

FIRST AUTO ACCIDENT OF RECORD? May 30, 1896 between a Duryea motor wagon and a bicycle. First speeding ticket, August 28, 1904.

WHERE DO WE GET OUR CARS HERE AT M&A Motors, 614 Broadway and 1600 Penna. Ave. in East Liverpool? Our buyers travel thousands of miles each year to select new car trade-ins of the highest quality. They are then inspected and reconditioned before put on sale by M&A MOTORS. Stop and see our cars at 241 Wells Avenue in Wellsville, too!

KNOW WHAT THE WORD "EYEBROW" MEANS to auto assemblers? That's the rim over the front of a car's headlights.

WHAT WILL YOUR NEW CAR BE LIKE in fifteen years? One man says the suburbia car will be small, hold only one or two passengers and a few packages, run on three wheels and have a fiberglass body.

THIS BIG SAFETY EMPHASIS IS A good thing, but don't let a few loud voices overplay their parts. A car is a lot like a knife — when someone gets hurt with one it's some person's fault. Figures show that 99 times out of 100 some person —not the machine—is at fault in auto wrecks. Let's be safety-concerned about drivers, too!

Saddlehorn
by Thom McAn
$11.99

An elegant shoe like this had better do more than just loaf

It could get up off its aristocratic hand-stitched toe and go to work. Or even to a party.

The Saddlehorn may be a loafer's delight. But it could be a social or business success. It's got the looks. New styling —very manly, but very refined. A new color—deep brown, with the soft gleam of an heirloom saddle. Even the inside is new: around the heel, a cushion foam lining covered with nylon in vivid blazer stripes.

Work, play, loaf—or just stand tall in new Saddlehorn slip-ons by Thom McAn.

We Stock Thom McAn Shoes In Sizes 5 to 14 And In Widths From A to EEE.

Boston, Bears Win First Of Exhibitions

The New York Jets rookies beat the Boston Patriots rookies 14-13 Wednesday night in an unofficial start of the exhibition pro football season. And in a game-type scrimmage the Chicago Bears whipped the College All-Stars 34-20.

The regular pro exhibition season opens Monday night with Philadelphia at Atlanta in the NFL. The AFL exhibition season starts Tuesday night with Oakland at Houston.

Emerson Boozer of Maryland State scored the winning touchdown for the Jet rookies on a three-yard run in the last quarter of the game at Lowell, Mass. The All-Stars, prepping for their clash with the Green Bay Packers in Chicago a week from Friday, made a respectable showing against the Bears in the scrimmage at Rensselaer, Ind.

A 70-yard TD run by Roy Shivers of Utah State provided the main fireworks for the All-Stars against the Bears who were led by Gale Sayers and Andy Livingston. Donny Anderson of Texas Tech also scored a TD for the All-Stars on a 10-yard end sweep. Each team was allowed 12 successive offensive plays in the game with 36 plays by each constituting a half.

Meantime a break seemed imminent in the various salary disputes when John Gordy, guard for the Detroit Lions, signed his contract. Ted Karras, Pat Studstill and Bruce Maher still are unsigned by the Lions.

In the latest salary flare-ups, end John Mackey and back Jimmy Orr of Baltimore left the Colts' training camp.

Services Are Held Today For Tony Lema And Wife

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — As his home town flew flags at half staff, funeral services were held today for professional golfer Tony Lema and his wife, Betty.

They were killed with two other persons Sunday in a flaming crash of a private plane on a golf course near Munster, Ind. He was 32, she 30.

Among the 12 pallbearers' names were fellow pro Ken Venturi of San Francisco and Tommy Jacobs, chairman of the Professional Golfers' Association Tournament Committee.

Eight Roman Catholic priests were to share in offering the Mass of concelebration at St. Elizabeth's Church. Burial was to follow at Holy Sepulchre Mausoleum in nearby Hayward.

Among the mourners was his mother, Mrs. Clotilda Lema, his two brothers and two sisters.

Hundreds of persons filed silently past the two closed caskets Wednesday at a funeral home in San Leandro, Lema's hometown adjacent to Oakland. The City Council ordered all flags half staff until after the burial.

Lema, one of the top money winners in golf, took more than $100,000 from the pro tour last year. He was a former British Open and Bing Crosby Tournament champion.

Golfers Pay Tribute At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The $92,000 Festival Open Golf Tournament starts bleakly today with the pros wearing black ribbons in memory of their colleague, Tony Lema, killed in a plane crash last Sunday.

The tourney is one of the PGA's most unusual events.

During a pro-amateur affair Wednesday, which Jacky Cupit topped with a six-under-par 66 for a record on the new Speedway course, a memorial to Lema was recorded.

At noon, play was halted and taps sounded on the loud speaker system. The Rev. Paul Reichart, Speedway chaplain, gave a brief memorial prayer.

Flags were put at half staff for the remainder of the meet, which ends Sunday.

Two minutes of silence were observed over the entire course.

A flare burst overhead.

A field of 135 teed off today. Posted in the locker rooms was a notice that funeral services for Lema and his wife, Betty, were to be held today in San Leandro, Calif.

Billy Casper was installed the tournament favorite. He won the same title in 1962 and is on the crest of a great 1966 season after taking the National and Western Opens.

The course, stretching 7,179 yards with a par 36-36—72, is so new that winter rules—improving lies on the fairways—prevail.

Football Figure Dies

BOSTON (AP) — Edward L. Casey, 72, selected to Walter Camp's 1919 All-America team, and later football coach at Harvard, died Wednesday.

Taxpayers Foot $437 Million Of Bill

Half Billion Being Spent To Expand Ohio Colleges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Half a billion dollars is being spent for buildings to meet demands of Ohio's college enrollment explosion.

Taxpayers are footing $437 million of the bill.

Private colleges and universities add to the total with endowments and funds from other sources. Millions more build dormitories and other facilities which pay for themselves.

State officials says the record outlay is just the beginning of what will be needed to accommodate enrollments expected to more than double by 1980.

Construction now under way along with that in the planning stage probably will do little more than meet minimum needs in the next decade, they estimate.

Ohio now has 168,000 students enrolled at public universities and colleges. It is predicted this total will grow to 280,000 in the next three years and to 450,000 by 1980.

Present private school enrollments total 98,000. They are expected to swell to 130,000 in 1970 and 200,000 in 1980.

State Public Works Director Alfred C. Glenow reports that the state's public schools currently have $160 million worth of construction in progress. Designs are ready for $266 million more.

Ohio University at Athens leads the list with $31.6 million under way, followed closely by Ohio State University, $28.2 million, and Kent State, $27.8 million.

The Ohio State figure does not include $17 million for two new tower dormitories being financed with self-retiring bonds. Most housing and similar facilities are paid for with income from rentals or similar fees.

Major state projects at other institutions on which construction has started are Bowling Green, $21.3 million; Miami, $20 million; Central State, $2.1 million; Akron, $7.3 million; Cleveland State, $31,000; University of Cincinnati, $2.2 million; University of Toledo, $4.1 million; Wright State University, $2.3 million; Youngstown University, $3.5 million, and Lorain Community College, $8.6 million.

Ohio State University and its branch campuses have $71.5 million in improvements planned, leading all schools. Others now in the design stage are Bowling Green, $18.6 million; Central State $2.1 million; Kent State, $21.4 million; Miami, $14 million; Ohio U. $12 million; Akron $7.7 million; Cuyahoga Community College, $21.7 million; Clark County Technical Institute, $2 million; Cleveland State, $39.6 million; Cincinnati, $12 million; Toledo $7.5 million; Wright State, $1.1 million.

Among Ohio's private institutions, Wittenberg in Springfield has three projects under way which will cost $5.3 million.

The University of Dayton is nearing completion of a $600,000 student health center. It has $5.5 million worth of other construction in the planning stage.

Capital University in Columbus has construction under way on a $2 million campus center and a $515,000 dormitory for women. It plans to add a $1.3 million men's dormitory and a $900,000 classroom building when financing is completed.

Xavier University in Cincinnati expects $1.5 million worth of improvements to be completed late this year, with other construction being planned.

Wisconsin Will Turn To U.S. Supreme Court

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin turned toward the U.S. Supreme Court today in its bid to bring baseball to bay on an antitrust charge after losing the battle in its own court.

The 4-3 Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling Wednesday that awarded the Braves to Atlanta left the prospect of return of baseball to Milwaukee at least distant, if not forever doubtful.

The Wisconsin court said specifically that baseball is a monopoly and gravely wounded Milwaukee by deserting the city, but it ruled the sport remained immune to antitrust prosecution.

Wisconsin's youthful Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette promised within an hour after the upset ruling that he would carry the case to the highest court in the land.

But La Follette conceded it would be at least early fall before the court would decide whether it would hear the case. And even if it does, he agreed baseball might already be in the 1967 season before any final decision is made.

Privately, Milwaukee had never harbored high hopes that its once beloved Braves might be uprooted from Atlanta and returned to their home of the past 13 seasons.

However, it had hoped, to use the legal struggle as siege gun to force baseball to compromise and give the city an expansion club.

Now that gun has been spiked, at least temporarily.

The case long has been expected to reach the U.S. Supreme Court regardless of who won Wednesday, but now it is baseball that is the home team.

It is Wisconsin which must sway the court and convince it to change the rules.

Wisconsin's Supreme Court read into a famed 1922 U.S. Supreme Court decision the intent that baseball be left untouched to police itself unless Congress intervened. Congress has stayed silent, said the court, and therefore so should the state.

The justices added that a state could hardly expect to try to govern a business that spans a continent.

The decision reversed a Milwaukee court's verdict that the National League and the Braves were guilty of violating the state's antitrust law.

It hurled the case out of court. With it went an April order that the Braves must return to Milwaukee unless a 1967 expansion team were provided the city.

La Follette noted the Wisconsin court agreed that baseball had victimized Milwaukee, but split by the narrowest of margins on the question of whether federal law allowed the state law to be enforced.

"The state court has held it is a federal question and this is right down the Supreme Court's alley," said La Follette.

Baseball was too busy celebrating Wednesday's victory to open this winter's battle. National League President Warren Giles said, "We will deal with that as the managers say during a pennant race — 'We'll play 'em one at a time.' "

Compromise Expected On Credit Issue

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House bill on consumer credit legislation probably will emerge from Senate committee as the vehicle for a compromise between Democrats and Republicans on the issue, Sen. Rowland B. Mahany said today.

Mahany is chairman of the Republican - controlled Senate Banking Committee which is studying both the Democratic House and Republican Senate bills on proposed consumer credit protection legislation.

"We'll probably have to use House Bill 7 as a vehicle and amend it," Mahany, R - Crawford, said. "Senate Bill 10 probably would not have much chance in the House."

He did not estimate when a bill might be released from committee.

Both measures are designed to prohibit hidden or excessive interest charges on installment purchases. The House bill, however, requires that the percentage of interest charged the purchaser be stated on the contract. The Senate bill requires that the interest be stated in dollars and cents.

The difference has been debated by legislatures, and consumer and business groups, and as a result, neither bill has passed both chambers.

The consumer credit proposal is one of just a few major items remaining on the 1966 legislative agenda. Some others are the budget and a mental health proposal.

The legislature completed action on another major item Wednesday when the House passed three compromise bills containing several proposed amendments to the Pennsylvania Constitution.

Following this the legislators quit for the week and will return Monday.

Next stop for the proposed constitutional revisions is the 1967 legislature. If the revisions pass, they then would go to the people for a vote.

The revisions include one allowing governors to succeed themselves for one more term —The next governor excluded— another trimming from one year to 90 days the residency requirement for voters and a third providing emergency amendment to the Constitution.

Thus, the legislature has met its Aug. 8 deadline. Had it failed to pass the bills by then it would have meant a two-year delay because of an advertising requirement.

In another matter, the six-man joint legislative conference committee laboring over a compromise in the budget battle plans to meet Sunday.

Both sides are hopeful of a settlement next week.

Their most delicate issue is whether to continue to permit the Welfare Department to use State funds to pay for information for persons on welfare.

It was learned Wednesday that Gov. Scranton had declined to intercede in the matter. He said the financial aspect of the program was up to the conference committee.

In other legislative action Wednesday:

Pitt — The house gave final legislative approval to a bill to make the University of Pittsburgh state-related and sent it to Scranton.

Conservation — Also given final legislative approval by the House was a proposed Constitutional amendment setting up a $500 million bond issue to be used for land and water conservation. This requires approval by the next legislature before going to a referendum.

Several More Sign Up In New Water System

Several additional contracts were turned in by prospective users of the proposed water distribution system for the Lawrenceville and Johnsonville area during another public meeting Wednesday night at the Lawrenceville Community Center.

About one-third of the goal of 182 signers has been achieved, Donald Shaw, member of the board of trustees of the Lawrenceville Public Service District, reported. A tentative deadline of Aug. 10 has been set for completing arrangements with customers, he added.

Original users of the system will pay an installation fee of $25, while those hooking on at a later date will be charged a fee of $150, Shaw explained, in pointing out the advantages of signing immediately.

William H. Schladen, chairman of the board, and James E. Fox, the third member, also attended last night's meeting, as did Callie Tsapis, legal adviser.

An estimated 20 residents of the area also were present.

Another meeting will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

Pickup Of Refuse To Be Delayed On Wellsville Routes

Both of Wellsville's refuse packer trucks are out of service and no collections are being made today, according to Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare.

The director said repairs will be completed today on one of the vehicles and it will be put back into service Friday.

Today's route will be covered tomorrow and both the Friday and Saturday collections will be made Saturday.

One of the trucks already was broken down and the other developed trouble this morning, the director said. The biggest problem is obtaining the necessary parts, he explained.

Scranton Won't Call For Special Session

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says he will not call a special session of the legislature to consider the state's Master Plan for Higher Education because the plan will not be ready until the fall — the height of the election campaign.

"I doubt if the legislature would give the full attention to the plan it rightfully deserves under those circumstances," he said Wednesday.

His statement was contained in a letter to Democratic House Majority Leader Joshua Eilberg.

Eilberg had requested him to call the special session.

Mike Williams, 19, of Illinois, spent 60 hours showering, from 11 p.m., January 14, to 11 a.m., January 17, 1965.

Welts Fires Top Round

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — The boss of the U.S. Curtis Cup golf team says she has "eight players of equal status" ready to go against Great Britain here Friday. But she admits that, in practice, Anne Quast Welts has looked a little more equal than the rest.

Mrs. Welts, three-time women's National Amateur champion, has matched par 71 in warm-ups at the Cascades course. None of the other U.S. players has done that well thus far and so, at the moment, it looks as though she'll be playing No. 1 for the Americans when the two-day competition starts.

First-day pairings, though, won't be made until 5 p.m., EDT, today and U.S. nonplaying captain Mrs. Mark A. Porter isn't for a second tipping her hand on the American line-up for the six singles and three foursome matches scheduled Friday morning and afternoon.

"So far as I'm concerned, it's still up in the air," she says. "We have today's practice to go. Anne's 71 has been the best but we've had several 74s, and I've been surprised our girls have learned the course so quickly. Three practice days is all we've had, you know."

The youthful British team, which arrived here a week before the first members of the American team put in an appearance last Sunday, has practiced so much that Mrs. S. M. Bolton, the nonplaying captain, told her players to take Tuesday and Wednesday off.

"We were afraid we might get stale," said Mrs. Bolton. "But we have found the course very English in design and demand. We've come to feel right at home at the Cascades."

Mrs. Porter, as American captain, has tended mostly to her American knitting but says she has "watched the British girls sort of out of the corner of my eye. They're young but good. We're all impressed, but we've been improving every day and we don't lack confidence."

U.S. champion Jean Ashley, Barbara Fay White Boddie, Carol Sorenson Flenniken, Barbara McIntire, Phyllis Preuss, Nancy Roth Syms and Helen Sigel Wilson are on the U.S. team with Mrs. Welts.

The British team includes Mrs. Michael Bonallack, Joan Hastings, Pamela Tredinnick, Susan Armitage, Ita Burke Marjory Fowler, Mrs. I. C. Robertson and Julia Greenhalgh. Their average age is only 25.

CUMBERWORTH, England (AP) — The Cumberland, England landmarks preservation committee hasn't much to look after with exception of Arthur Bellwood's glorious chest-length black beard. For the past five years people have been coming for miles to see it.

Now, Bellwood wants to shave it off and Postmaster Fred Kilner has circulated a petition to save it.

"Unthinkable," he said of Bellwood's plan. "It's our local landmark."

Bellwood was unmoved. "The petition won't make any difference. The beard has been a showplace long enough."

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

Hurry, Batman!

"Batman" fans won't be kept waiting for new adventures any longer than ABC can help. Network sources say new episodes starring the Dynamic Duo will be among shows given "advance premieres" during the week immediately following Labor Day.

Richard Doan

All three TV networks have officially tabbed Sept. 11-17 as their premiere week, but ABC, itching to give its entries a running start, is getting approval from sponsors to kick off some shows the preceding week.

-:-

THUS FAR the network has cleared four new series for a fast post-Labor Day getaway: "That Girl" with Marlo Thomas and "The Pruitts of Southampson" with Phyllis Diller, both comedies; Milton Berle's variety hour, and David Carradine's "Shane," an adaptation of the Western movie starring the late Alan Ladd.

One trade report said ABC was trying to advance all of its new shows to the earlier week except Monday night (Labor Day evening), leaving only returning series to make their fall debuts against the CBS and NBC premieres.

An ABC spokesman denied this, saying a few more than those already cleared may be scheduled early, but not the whole batch.

For one thing, ABC-TV President Thomas W. Moore has firmly said that the opening of the prestigious "Stage 67" series is absolutely firm for Wednesday, Sept. 14.

The twice-weekly "Batman" fall premiere has been advanced a week apparently in hopes of clinching its continued ratings success.

NOBODY, including American Broadcasting Co.'s president, Leonard Goldenson, knows yet how much of a success the forthcoming "Stage 67" series will be.

The chances are this expensive, innovating Wednesday night hour, to be devoted no two weeks to the same entertainment, will come off with a mixture of successes and failures both in the ratings race and at the hands of critics.

In any event, note is being taken in industry circles these days that Goldenson, who committed ABC to this prestige-seeking enterprise in the first place, seems already to have committed the network to its perpetuation, at least beyond the season just ahead.

ABC'S drumbeaters are distributing a promotional broadside for "Stage 67" featuring a reprint of a Business Week article entitled "TV Sets Stage for Quality Shows."

In it Goldenson admits that, when he promised in a National Association of Broadcasters speech last year to launch a weekly hour of creative innovation on ABC, he didn't realize what he was getting into.

"I didn't know what was needed," he told the magazine interviewer, "and I didn't think it would cost this much." (The time-and-talent cost of the 26-week series has been put at close to $20 million.)

WHAT TV CIRCLES consider significant, however, is that the ABC boss expansively indicated that the project will become a permanent part of ABC's schedule.

"If it doesn't succeed, we'll vary it, but we don't drop it," he was quoted as saying.

Privately, Goldenson's cohorts are not anxious to be on record as guaranteeing long life to "Stage 67."

"Look," one of them said, "we're going to the altar. We hope it all works out well. But it's a little premature to make specific promises."

Junior Editors Quiz on CANARIES

QUESTION: Are wild and tame canaries the same?

ANSWER: The jolly little tame canary, one of the best loved pets, is a member of the large bird family of finches. His scientific name is "Serinus canarius." He is called a canary because his ancestors once flew wild in the Canary Islands. Canaries have been bred in many countries. They have become more yellow and sing much more beautifully than the wild ones which still exist in the old world. When we speak of "wild canary" in America, we generally mean another bird, the goldfinch, which, with his black wings and cap, is different in appearance, and has a different scientific name, "Spinus tristis." In spite of this the goldfinch (lower picture) is a distant relative of the canary, as both belong to the finch family. Besides the bright yellow of their bodies, these two kinds of birds resemble each other in their temperaments—cheerful and bubbling in both cases. The flight of the goldfinch is a distinctive series of undulations, with the bird whistling per-chick-o-ree at each crest. With his smart black and yellow colors, the goldfinch's appearance rivals the brilliant singing of his cousin, the little Caruso inside the cage.
